It is revealed in Washington today that the manpower deferment committee has informed the maritime commission it can expect no deferment considerations for men under 26 who enrolled in its seaman schools after April 1. Disclosure that the merchant marine training program will be hit hard by the new policy to draft every available man under 26 comes as selective service chief Hershey warns the 26-30 age group will be the next field for tightened draft measures. Hershey says not enough men will be gotten from the 574 thousand industrial deferments between 22 and 26 to fill draft quotas.

Meanwhile, officials reveal the state department has asked the war food administration to explore the effect on the American meat supply if all Allied purchases of Argentine beef are cut off. This appears to be a preliminary to applying economic sanctions against Argentina whose new military government does not meet with United States approval.

WFA Chief Marvin Jones, who is preparing the reply, warns civilians the amount of canned food they will receive next year hinges largely on the number of victory gardens. WFA reports a dangerous letdown in victory gardening in many states.

In an effort to keep the "backyard" production from lagging, OPA announces victory gardeners will again be granted special gasoline rations to get to and from their plots this summer.

Miss Vivian Kellems, Connecticut war plant owner, is due in Washington today to protest disclosure of letters she is alleged to have written to a Nazi agent. She is lunching with Sen. Reed (R) Kans., who says proper congressional committees should investigate if privacy of the mails is being violated.

Stockholm Says Bucharest Has Second Bombing

New Wave Of Near-Panic Is Under Way In Jittery Balkans

BUDAPEST AREA TO BE EVACUATED

By JOHN E. LEE (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, April 5.—Stockholm dispatches today reported that Bucharest, capital of war-weary Rumania, was bombed last night for the second time in little more than 12 hours to touch off a new wave of near-panic throughout the jittery Balkans.

The London News-Chronicle, in a dispatch from the Swedish capital said that Allied planes struck at Bucharest at 9 o'clock last night (3 p. m. EDT) on the heels of yesterday's daylight assault by Italy-based American heavy bombers which gave the Rumanian hub its first air blow of the war at the hands of the Western Allies.

A Swedish newspaperman, telephoning to his Stockholm office, was quoted as declaring: "Large fires burning."

"A heavy raid now is on. The Athens Palace hotel has been hit and large fires are burning."

Simultaneously, authoritative quarters in London reported that leaflets and newspapers prepared by the office of War Information in the United States have been dropped "by the millions" from Allied bombers over Germany and her satellite states. Included, these sources said, were copies of a four-page featherweight newspaper known as "The Stern-Banner."

"Stars and Stripes."

The award is in recognition of superior plant protection measures against fire, accidents, air raid attacks and sabotage. A similar award was made recently to the Pennsylvania Power Company.

Of the eight awards to plants over the entire United States, Pennsylvania plants have been awarded 26 of them it is announced. Before a plant is given the National Security Award the State Council of Defense must first recommend it. This recommendation has been made in the case of the Johnson Bronze Company and it is likely the award will be made sometime in the future, with appropriate ceremonies.

Badoglio Urged To Make Changes In His Government

(BULLETIN)

LONDON, April 5.—(INS)—Foreign Secretary Eden told Commons today the British government plans to encourage Marshal Badoglio to reconstruct his government on a basis "more widely representative of the Italian people" before the Allies occupy Rome.

Eden, making this revelation in reply to a question before the House added:

"This point is to be re-examined at a forthcoming meeting of the advisory council for Italy."

The suave foreign secretary further advised the chamber that it "naturally" was not the intention of the American or British governments to have anything to do with the "renegade authorities of Vichy."

Bucharest Bombing Of Vast Importance

By MAJOR PAUL C. RABORG (Written Especially for L.N.S.)

NEW YORK, April 5.—The heavy attack by Allied bombers on Bucharest is of vast strategic importance. For the first time in this war, a close pincer attack against southwestern Europe is actually in effect between Russia in the east and the Allies in the west.

The three Red Ukrainian armies which have been driving westward against Hitler's legions, from the column in the north aimed at Lwow in Poland to the southernmost one now approaching Odessa, have practically cut all main rail communication lines from the Ukraine running northward into Poland and thence to Germany.

Hit Balkan Capitals Commencing on Thursday, March

30. American and British Mediterranean based bombers staged a terrific day and night attack against Sofia, Bulgaria, a junction through which any German troops evacuated by way of the Black sea from the Ukraine and landed in Bulgaria would pass.

That blow against Sofia was followed four days later by another terrific American air assault by the same 15th U. S. A. F. against Budapest, Hungary.

Then lastly, on Tuesday, came the assault against Bucharest. The pattern of those three targets shows far reaching planning to disrupt Hitler's means of withdrawal as well as his ability to supply the remnants of his armies in southeastern Europe. It shows further (Continued On Page Two)

Nazi Coastal Defenses Are Again Targets

Pas De Calais Area Of France Heavily Bombed By U. S. Warplanes

NIGHT STABS ALSO MADE AT GERMANY

By CHARLES A. SMITH (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, April 5.—Nazi coastal defense positions in the Pas De Calais area of France underwent renewed bombardment by Liberator bombers of the United States Eighth Air Force today.

The big bombers which blasted the German military objectives were escorted by Thunderbolt fighters.

Follows Night Stabs

The Pas De Calais assault followed night stabs by the Royal Air Force at Cologne and targets in the Ruhr valley. Coastal observers said strong formations participated in the attacks.

The Calais, Luxembourg and all German radio stations shut down as the Allied planes winged in the direction of Europe.

Early this afternoon, the German-controlled nice and Hilversum radios went off the air suddenly. At 2 p. m. a Nazi broadcast told of "a number of enemy planes heading for western Germany."

Twenty-five minutes later, the Frankfurt radio announced that "small enemy formations are over western and southwestern portions of the Reich."

Ten Members Of Liberator Crew Rescued At Sea

Shot Down On March 30 In Battle Over Truk Island In Pacific Area

By JACK MAHON (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

AN ADVANCED SOLOMONS BASE, April 5.—(INS)—Ten more men shot out of the sky during the March 30 raid on Truk have come home from a watery grave, it was revealed today with the announcement that a destroyer had rescued a Liberator crew forced down only 15 miles off a Jap base.

This crew, typical of the boys of the Thirteenth Air Force, survived a terrific battle with intercepting Zeros over Truk, saw members wounded and their planes wrecked, and fought off a school of hungry sharks throughout the night before being picked up.

The pilot, 2nd Lt. Hubert W. Glass, Fort Wayne, Indiana, made a perfect water landing with the Liberator and it remained afloat for 13 minutes. The landing was made despite wreckage of control cables and gasoline lines.

The Liberator was "tail end Charlie," flying at the end of the formation.

Wendell Willkie Silent On Result

NORFOLK, Neb., April 5.—(INS)—Wendell Willkie went to bed early today without commenting on the results of the Wisconsin election.

He spent yesterday making four speeches in his Nebraska campaign against Harold Stassen for the presidential preference vote at the April 11 primary.

Willkie Loses In Wisconsin

Governor Dewey Apparently Captures Majority Of States 24 Delegates

By A. L. SLOAN (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MILWAUKEE, April 5.—Wendell Willkie hit the toboggan as candidate for the Republican presidential nomination today in an avalanche of returns from yesterday's Wisconsin primary, in which Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York apparently had captured a majority of the state's 24 delegates.

For Willkie, it was one of the most disastrous defeats in recent political history.

Turn Willkie Down

Voters of this state of the La Follette, long renowned for its liberalism, in unmistakable terms turned thumbs down on Willkie's aspirations to become again the GOP standard bearer.

In the field of four presidential possibilities, the 1940 nominee was running last, a poor fourth, with delegate candidates pledged to Lt. Comdr. Harold E. Stassen, second, and Gen. Douglas MacArthur, third.

Willkie had not bagged a single delegate in returns from more than half the state's 3,076 precincts completed through the night.

Incomplete returns indicated 17 Dewey delegates elected, with Stassen winning 4 and MacArthur 3.

Dewey Leads

The failure of the dramatic Willkie campaign through the state was evident from the Milwaukee returns which indicated he was losing, too, his fight in the city where he made his most ardent appeal to labor.

With only three delegate at large candidates entered under Dewey's name, these three were elected by large pluralities, the fourth going to Stassen.

The Willkie candidates consistently were at the tail end of the procession from the very beginning of the tallies in the race for delegates at large, as well as in most of the 10 districts in each of which two delegates were elected.

The result was regarded as sending Dewey's stock soaring to a new high as the outstanding favorite for nomination at the national convention opening in Chicago, June 26.

Timor Is Again Hit By Bombers

GEN. MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, April 5.—(INS)—For the third time in four days, Dutch-Flown Mitchell bombers were credited today with an assault upon Japanese barracks, air-dromes and dispersal areas at Penfui, Netherlands Timor. The assault, carried out Monday night, was pressed home in the face of intense anti-aircraft fire, returning crew members reported.

Mother Of Slain Woman Hopes All Will Now Forget

NEW YORK, April 5.—(INS)—Hoping that "everybody will forget," Mrs. Lucille Burton Longman, mother of the slain Patricia Burton Longman, will seek temporary seclusion with her 21-month-old grandson, Wayne William, in White Sulphur Springs, Va., it was learned today.

"I think we deserve a rest after the strain of the trial," she is quoted as telling friends. "I hope to get away from the publicity." And I hope also that everybody will forget what has happened."

Wayne Longman, the child's father, was convicted of second degree murder for the killing of Patricia and faces a mandatory sentence of 20 years in life imprisonment.

Another Allied Hospital In Italy Shelled By Nazis

German Retaliation For Allied Artillery Fire Is Attack On Hospital

LARGE-SCALE MOVE MAY BE IMPENDING

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NAPLES, April 5.—Massed batteries of Allied artillery hammered relentlessly at Nazi positions along all sectors of the Italian front for the second straight day today in a co-ordinated barrage for which the Germans retaliated by shelling another hospital.

Official spokesmen announced that enemy gunners had dropped their shells into a hospital in the Anzio beachhead sector—scene of several similar incidents in the past.

Italians Aid Allies

Meanwhile, Italian troops fighting side by side with the Allies turned back an enemy attack on Monte Marrone in the Cassino sector, inflicting heavy casualties on their former allies.

The Italians had occupied the Allied positions at Vallertonda, heavily shelling the area.

The attack against the Allied hospital occurred at 8 o'clock Monday night, when two enemy shells struck the 56th Evacuation hospital. One person was killed and a "small" fire started. The blaze, however, was quickly brought under control.

Another fire was touched off by Allied guns which blasted a German ammunition dump three miles west of the air in 73 minutes.

Bus Company Head To Leave

T. C. Moore, General Manager Of City System To Go To California

T. C. Moore, vice president and general manager of the Shenango Valley Transportation company today announced his resignation, effective April 20. The bus executive is to be president of the Acme Sail company of California and will reside in Long Beach.

Mr. Moore has been located in New Castle since 1931 and until the bus company succeeded the electric street car system, he was superintendent of transportation of the New Castle Street Railway company.

When the operation of street cars was abandoned and the bus line formed December 11, 1941, Mr. Moore was elected vice president and general manager. Later, he was appointed local co-ordinator for the Office of Defense Transportation.

During his stay in New Castle Mr. Moore has won innumerable friends. He has conducted the affairs of both the street car company and the bus system with courtesy and at all times has co-operated with movements for the betterment of the city.

He is a member of the Greater New Castle association, the Rotary club and other organizations. His many friends, while they will regret to hear he has resigned and is leaving, will be pleased to hear of his selection as president of the California organization.

Canadian Frigate Sinks Nazi Sub

LONDON, April 5.—(INS)—A Canadian frigate which left a fitting-out berth less than three weeks ago, today was credited with sinking a Nazi U-boat and landing 19 survivors as prisoners of war.

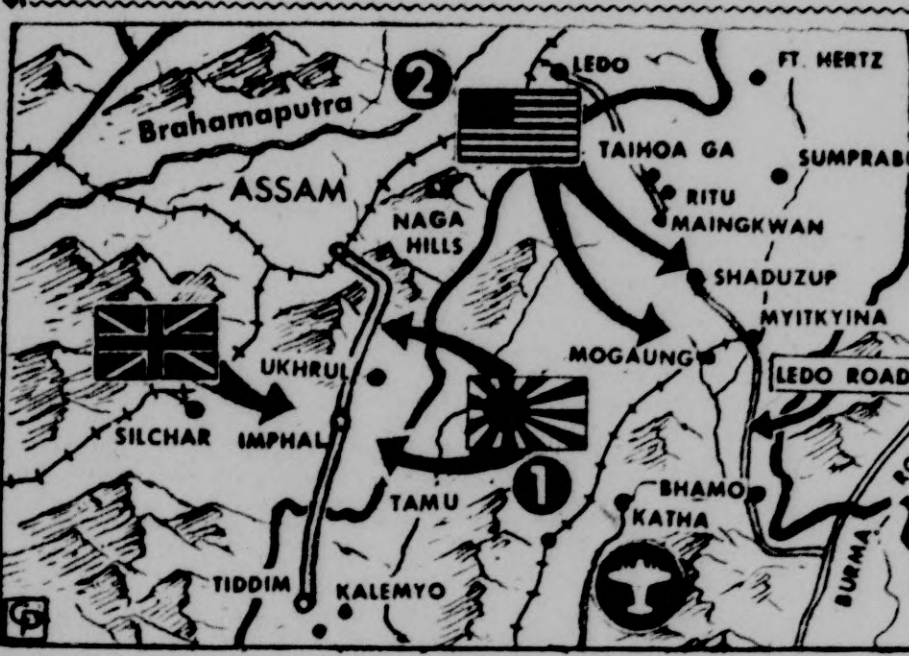

An admiralty communique identified the vessel as the Waskesiu, first frigate built in Canada in this war. The ship blasted the enemy sub as the latter attempted to attack "a valuable convoy in the north Atlantic," the announcement added.

ORDERED TO CRACK DOWN

PITTSBURGH, April 5.—(INS)—Military police in the third service command today were ordered by Major General Philip Hayes to crack down on regulations concerning uniforms and military courtesy.

"Shoddy appearance, drunkenness and disorderly conduct will not be tolerated in the third service command," the general declared.

TWO PHASES OF BURMA FRONT

While Jap forces continue to endanger the Tiddim-Imphal supply road (1) and a crisis in the Manipur Province battle appeared near the Americans and American-trained Chinese troops are fighting their way southward (2) in the drive to sever important enemy communications lines. ### Japs Lose 288 Planes As U. S. Bombers Attack

Terrific Damage Done To Enemy In Attack At Hollandia, New Guinea

FORMIDABLE JAP BASE NOW RUINS

By GEORGE LAIT (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

GEN. MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, April 5.—The sprawling Japanese air base at Hollandia, New Guinea, once the most formidable in this entire area, lay in burning ruins today—obliterated by American bombers which mounted the greatest sky assault ever seen in this theater.

Some 300 heavy, medium and attack bombers escorted by swarms of fighters carried out the record onslaught to give Hollandia its third heavy attack in recent days. Twenty-six enemy interceptors were shot out of the air in 73 minutes.

Destroy 288 Jap Planes

As a result of the assaults, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced, all of the 288 enemy planes present in that area on March 30 have been destroyed or shot out of action at negligible cost to the attacking formations. Only one American plane was lost in the latest raid, carried out Monday, he added.

Four hundred tons of bombs rained on the three key air strips within the huge base as the bombers roared in at low and medium altitudes to press home their assault.

Forty-Nine Nazi Planes Shot Down

Twelve Allied Planes Are Missing Following Sorties From From Italy

(BULLETIN)

NAPLES, April 5.—(INS)—Allied headquarters announced today that 49 Nazi interceptors were shot down yesterday during attacks by Mediterranean based planes whose 1,400-sortie day was climaxed by an assault on the Rumanian capital of Bucharest.

Twelve Allied planes were listed as missing.

Bucharest's big rail yards and repair shops were well covered with bomb bursts despite the efforts of some 200 enemy planes to turn back the attackers. The main yards at the northwestern edge of the city were damaged heavily. Many hits were scored along rights-of-way and on rolling stock, warehouses and dumps causing huge conflagrations which in turn set off loud explosions.

Guns on board the B-17 Fortress and B-24 Liberators were credited with bagging the greater part of the day's bag of Nazi planes, while escorting Thunderbolt pilots also sent several interceptors plunging to earth in flames.

Meanwhile, fighter-bombers and light bombers hit supply dumps, bivouac areas, bridges and communication lines north of Rome and in the Anzio beachhead and Cassino areas.

Rumor Rumania Seeks Armistice

(BULLETIN)

NEW YORK, April 5.—(INS)—The Blue Network said today in a London broadcast that dispatches reaching the British capital from Turkey said Premier Marshal Ion Antonescu of Rumania will ask Washington, London and Moscow for an armistice.

Fierce Battle Is Now Raging In Tarnopol Streets

Red Army Now Controls Most Of City In Old Poland Despite Nazi Defense

FIFTEEN GERMAN DIVISIONS IN TRAP

By NATALIA RENE (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, April 5.—Fierce hand-to-hand combat raged today within the streets of the Tarnopol railroad junction of old Poland, with the Red army controlling most of the city despite Hitler's orders to the Nazi garrison to "hold the town at all costs."

Fall of the vital city, already completely encircled by troops of Marshal Gregory Zhukov's first Ukrainian army, was believed imminent although the Germans fought stubbornly to carry out Hitler's command.

More Nazis Trapped

While the Russians pressed their battle for annihilation of the Nazis within Tarnopol, other powerful Soviet tank, artillery and infantry forces tightened a ring of steel about remnants of 15 enemy divisions enmeshed in the Skala trap. Repeated attempts of the Germans to break out of the encirclement were completely unsuccessful.

The army newspaper, Red Star, said that the German position within the ever-constricting Skala trap is "now desperate."

In one sector, the enemy concentrated large armored and motorized forces in a narrow spearhead which they tried to ram through the Russian lines.

Man Shoots Self As U. S. Marshal Reaches His Home

ELKTON, Md., April 5.—(INS)—Joseph Ben Decker, 56-year-old former vice president and general manager of Triumph Explosives, Inc., Elkton, shot himself in the chest today as a U. S. Marshal arrived at his home to take him to the federal prison.

Two weeks ago Decker lost a final appeal growing out of a government investigation of war contracts held by the firm. He had been convicted of defrauding his own company of $84,000 and violating the re-negotiations act.

Decker turned the shotgun on himself in his farmhouse home a quarter of a mile away from the former fireworks plant. He was rushed to Union hospital, where physicians said his condition is serious.

The Marshal was to take him to prison to begin two concurrent sentences of three years and one year.

President Stays In Private Study

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(INS)—President Roosevelt remained in his private study again today, still nursing what remained of his bronchial attack, at the advice of his physician, vice-admiral Ross T. McIntire.

Presidential Secretary Stephen T. Early said today that the President would devote his day to work in his study.

Report Lindbergh Is Inoculated

NEW YORK, April 5.—(INS)—Charles A. Lindbergh was reported today to have received yellow fever immunization inoculations at the Marine hospital on Staten Island, the New York Journal-American said today.

Such "shots" usually are administered to persons about to go overseas.

Lindbergh was unavailable for comment and the navy and Ford Motor Company, Lindy's employer, refused to make any statement.

I read of tournaments far and near of championships at stake, I read of lucky baskets made and games won on a "break." The stars flash by in glad array, and soon they are (voted), and some are bright as bright can be and some are not so hot. But I know stars of unknown fame, as bright as any jewel, I mean the kids of ten or twelve who play their games in school. They shoot and yell and block and pass, to them the game is fun, for they are stars of coming days, the weather's thirty-one.

Arrest Twelve Japs Failing To Answer Draft

(BULLETIN)
DENVER, April 5.—(INS)—H. R. Duffy, special agent in charge of the federal bureau of investigation in Denver today announced the arrest of 12 Japanese-Americans at Heart Mountain SAR relocation center in Wyoming, for failure to report for their pre-induction physical examinations.

All the individuals, it was said, registered for selective service on the west coast prior to their evacuation to Wyoming. Their files were transferred to Local Board 1 at Casper, Wyo., and later they were ordered to report for pre-induction physical examinations.

The 12 arrested today, part of 53 Japanese-Americans at Heart Mountain who failed to report for their examinations, are being held at Casper, Wyo., county jail, awaiting action on May 8 by the federal grand jury.

Officials announced that other arrests are contemplated.

BUCHAREST BOMBING OF VAST IMPORTANCE

complete co-ordination of planning between the Soviet and Allied high commands.

Pin Down Germans
The assault against southern Europe, in particular on the Italian peninsula, is assumed to have pinned down there not less than 25 of the German elite first-line combat divisions.

Guerrilla warfare waged by Marshal Tito and others in the Balkans, with the added Allied assistance consisting of supplies, guidance, and use of air forces, has pinned down another probably six or more of Hitler's prize combat divisions.

The two Allied offensives from the south have in addition tied to southern Europe many of Marshal Hermann Goering's crack fighter airplane squadrons.

Nazis Over-Extended
The air offensive against fortress Europe has destroyed war production and rail communications to such an extent that it has definitely slowed the flow of replenishments from Axis Europe needed by the Nazis armies on the Russian front.

The threat of the coming offensive out of Britain has held countless other Nazi first line combat divisions and air units scattered along the entire west coast of Europe from northernmost Norway to southernmost France.

That combination has forced Hitler to keep all of his armed forces in a terribly over-extended position. Now, in southeastern Europe Stalin's legions crash westward, four heavy bombers demolish the rear areas occupied by Nazi troops. Two Allied offensives in the south are in operation and a third might hit the retreating German divisions in their backs at any time.

Library committee report was given by Rev. G. E. Fisher. Speaker of the day was Rev. P. P. Sulmonetti who had as his subject, "Religious Freedom in Italy" and presented a resolution which was adopted, sponsored by the American Committee for Religious Freedom in Italy.

This resolution, in part, is as follows:

"We, ministers and laymen, most of us of Italian origin representing thousands of Italian protestants throughout all America, respectfully urge the government of the United States to make of Italy a test case for the four freedoms which all the delivered people of the world are constantly expecting us to establish." The four freedoms referred to are from fear, from want, of speech, and of worship.

The meeting closed to meet at the Central Presbyterian church for noon-day Holy Week service.

French Patriots Battle Germans

LONDON, April 5.—(INS)—Reports to French headquarters in London today told of a day-long battle between French patriots and 1,500 Germans in the mountains of central France which resulted in death for 40 Nazis while only eight Frenchmen were lost.

The Germans, swooping down in darkness on the patriot camp, employed flame throwers and machine-guns. The patriots eventually were forced to withdraw but not before setting fire to a munition dump and large stocks of supplies.

Eastern Finland Attack Reported

NEW YORK, April 5.—(INS)—The Finnish high command reported today that "enemy" planes attacked the city of Joensuu in eastern Finland last night, causing damages and inflicting casualties. Joensuu is about 95 miles north of Lake Ladoga.

The high command communique, broadcast by the Finnish radio was heard by the FCC.

Your used fat belongs in the fight, to make munitions and medicines. Your meat dealer gives you two extra ration points and four cents cash for every pound you turn in!

Short Cuts That Make Fat-Saving Easier!

ARE YOU making too much work of saving your used fats? 9 out of 10 women are, a recent survey found. So try this to save you steps and save more fat! Keep a tin or crock as a handy reminder on the back of the stove. Then, without extra steps, you can pour in used fat scraped from your skillet, roaster, broiler, or whatever... just as it is.

WHEN the container is filled, melt down the fat and pour all of it at once into a tin can... any kind will do. Then rush it to your meat dealer. Remember, it can't make medicines and munitions... or earn you 2 free meat points and 4¢ a pound... till you turn it in. So save it all and get it in promptly. Start today, won't you?

TELLING BLOWS STRUCK AT JAPS IN SOUTH BURMA

river under heavy enemy fire and pushed the Japanese southward in a drive which at last reports still was developing.

Japanese invasion columns pushing into India ran up against tenacious Allied resistance after failing in an attempt to wipe out the British and Indian troops by setting fire to the jungles.

The Allies thwarted the Nipponese attempt to "box" them by lighting alternate squares of fire in the underbrush and covering all exits with machine-gun plis, frontline dispatches declared.

For more than a week the Indian Gurkhas and British Tommies fought side-by-side along the Sang-shak plateau 30 miles east of the endangered supply base of Imphal against encircling enemy hordes but finally succeeded in breaking through to improved positions.

Jap Casualties High

Some losses were admitted at the hands of the enemy machine-guns and a few troops were burned to death in the jungle fires, but casualties were believed far below those of the enemy, of whom 900 officers and men were killed.

The latest official tabulation showed that at least 2,600 Japanese have been killed, and a far larger number wounded, in current operations on the India-Burma front. This does not include "many more" killed in aerial attacks or in skirmishes in the Ukhral area and east and northeast of Imphal.

Other Allied garrisons in the Tiddim and Tamu regions also stood firm despite heavy enemy pressure which was maintained without letup. Japanese troops also were reported concentrating in a region about 40 miles north of Imphal and in the area near Ukhral.

JAPS LOSE 288 PLANES AS U. S. BOMBERS ATTACK

sault. One A20 attack bomber pilot reported whipping over Hollandia at 100 feet during the height of the assault, which was spearheaded by giant four-motored Liberators and medium Mitchells.

In describing the assault, MacArthur said: "In the heaviest attack so far against any enemy base in this area, escort heavy, medium altitude bombers at minimum altitudes dropped 400 tons of explosives and expended 275,000 rounds of ammunition on three airdromes."

Airdromes Hit

These were the Santani, Cyclops and Hollandia strips.

Opening the assault, the big Liberators bombed anti-aircraft batteries from medium altitudes, silencing many of them and paving the way for the low-flying medium and attack units which followed.

Striking in successive waves, these squadrons pounded and dispersed the burning strips and dispersal bays, rendered unserviceable the fields' runways. Key installations were damaged severely and smoke from burning planes and fuel dumps totally obscured the target. On the ground, the wreckage of burning Japanese aircraft mingled with the twisted skeletons of hangars and storage structures in presenting a scene of utter devastation before the billowing smoke columns made further observation almost impossible and darkened the skies to heights of 7,000 feet.

The first wave of Liberators was greeted with a moderate amount of flak, but later formations reported encountering no ground opposition.

The communique also revealed new actions in the sky against the tottering enemy bastion at Rabaul, New Britain, and the huge Japanese naval base at Truk in the Caroline Islands.

northwest of Cisterna and demolished an enemy observation post in a tower at Littoria. At least one Nazi self-propelled gun was set afire by Fifth Army shells west of Cisterna.

Enemy Fire "Sporadic"

On the whole, the enemy artillery fire was described as "sporadic" while the Allied guns were officially said to be "active."

As the Allied artillery barrage rolled toward the 48-hour mark, some observers saw in it the possible groundwork for a resumption of large-scale fighting.

The heavy guns, which opened up simultaneously yesterday, inflicted casualties on the Germans and destroyed at least two enemy ammunition dumps. The gunners concentrated again on Nazi troop centers, communication arteries and supply areas.

Infantry patrols clashed on all fronts. Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson announced in a communique summarizing the day's activities.

LONDON, April 5.—(INS)—The Nazi-controlled Vichy radio reported today that Allied troops in Italy "have improved their positions along the Garigliano river."

Mrs. Griff Rishel of East North street, reports that she was surprised to see a dark bird, about the size of a sparrow in her home Tuesday morning. No one in the family saw the little fellow enter, and it flew around from rung to rung of the chairs seemingly quite contented. Upon inquiry Mrs. Rishel was told the bird was a waxwing.

that the air offensive continued during the afternoon. Two strong forces of Allied craft were heard going out for attacks. One headed toward the area southwest of Boulogne. The other went in the direction of Calais.

The attacks followed closely on the heels of night attacks against the Reich by 400-mile-an-hour Mosquito bombers of the Royal Air Force, all of which returned safely to their bases.

The industrial and communications hub of Cologne, virtually obliterated many months ago in heavy Allied attacks, was stabbed by the plywood bombers, along with "other objectives in the Ruhr area."

The official air ministry statement added: "Other Mosquitos yesterday destroyed an enemy aircraft over western France."

TAYLOR-DICKSON GREENSBORO WEDDING

Justamere Farm, home of Dr. and Mrs. Wesley Taylor, north of Greensboro, N. C., was the scene of the wedding on March 30 of their daughter, Miss Catherine Vincent Taylor, and Pvt. John Frazier Dickson, BTC 10, son of Mrs. Cassius C. Dickson, of 203 West Grant street, this city.

Dr. Charles F. Myers, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Greensboro, heard the vows at 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon before the living room fireplace, where against a banking of palms and vases of white stock and calla lilies, white tapers burned in four seven-branched candelabra.

Dr. Taylor escorted his daughter who was attended by her only sister, Miss Julia Taylor. The bride wore a gown of heavy white crepe which showed Grecian influence in its cut. Her fingertip length veil of illusion fell from a Juliet cap of pearls. She carried a bouquet of gardenias, white orchids, and swainsona. The maid of honor wore pale pink crepe.

Pvt. Eugene Wall, BTC, of Pittsburgh, was best man for Private Dickson.

Buffet supper was served after the ceremony to the 150 guests who were present. The elegantly appointed table from which guests were served was decorated with the wedding cake, white candles in silver holders, and a floral arrangement of calla lilies, tulips, stock and swainsona, all in white in a silver bowl.

Private Dickson is stationed in Greensboro with the W.T.S. program of the A.A.F. He has been a lifelong resident of New Castle.

PALMER-BLIXT CHURCH WEDDING

MARQUIS CHILDS

Bricker Like Landon

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., April 5.—To call Governor Bricker of Ohio an "honest Harding" is unfair for more reasons than one. It is one of those glib phrases that serve merely to cloud political thinking.

Harding was sophisticated, cynical, identifying himself with Washington rather than his native Ohio. His pretensions to virtue and piety were assumed with an easy hypocrisy.

Bricker is Ohio personified. In fact, sometimes you feel that he cultivates almost too consciously the country boy attitude. The governor lards his conversation with phrases out of his boyhood. Speaking of the resplendent attire of one of the reception committee at a recent stop on his tour, he quoted a saying of his father's:

"Why, he was dressed up like a she-bear going to market."

More Like Landon

Rather than Harding, I would compare Bricker to Al Landon of Kansas. The two have much in common. They both set good records in their respective states. They both have a strong state and regional pride. If Bricker seems to lack something of Landon's tart shrewdness, he makes up for it by being a better public speaker, more polished and professional.

The kind of talks that Bricker has been making in his campaign for the presidential nomination have sounded remarkably like the speeches that Landon made in 1936. You get a curious feeling of having heard it not once, but several times before.

Everything about the governor and his campaign is country cured. With him on his campaign routes, old friends and associates from Ohio, conscious, like the governor, that they are playing for the first time in the big leagues.

Bricker's campaign manager is Roy Moore, publisher of seven Ohio newspapers, among them the Marion Star, which was Warren Harding's paper. A member of the governing cabinet, Robert L. Barton, is his secretary and chief arranger of the political tours. The press representative is J. J. Flanagan, a former Toledo, O., newspaper man.

Possibly the most convinced Bricker-for-president man in the country is John W. Galbreath of Columbus, president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards. Galbreath, a quick moving, intense little man with extensive real estate holdings in several cities, usually turns up when Bricker is to make a major speech, although he does not travel with him.

The governor says that while Galbreath has contributed to the campaign fund, his contributions have not been large. The total sum spent thus far, according to Bricker, has been small, merely enough to cover the cost of travel and a little literature.

Mrs. Bricker, like Mrs. Willkie, is a good trouper. What these politicians' wives have to take is something I have seen her greet a reception committee in the black and white of 6:15 a. m. looking as pleased as though it were high noon and she was just out of a beauty parlor.

The most ardent press support for the governor's candidacy has come from the H. P. Wolfe papers in Columbus. Contrary to current report, Bricker says that the Wolfe family has not helped to finance his campaign. Karl B. Pauly, political editor of the Ohio State Journal, one of the Wolfe papers, accompanies the governor on his tours and is the author of the recently published campaign biography.

Bricker's strategy has been to keep out of the primary contests. He seems to believe he can amass delegates without risking a tax by the voters. He still speaks confidently of the delegate strength he will show when the convention opens in June.

But I must say that, traveling with him even for a short time, it is difficult to see where the strength is coming from. Governor Dewey is acquiring a sizable total of southern delegates and even those who are uncommitted lean toward the New Yorker.

Bricker is working hard. He speaks to audiences of loyal Republicans who applaud him generously. He makes a handsome appearance. But if he is gaining, the evidence is hard to find.

His speeches have an empty sound. They seem to lack both weight and authority. In times like these people want something more than a "good word" from a governor.

THE DYED IN THE WOOL BASKET BALL FIEND PUTS SOME EARTH IN THE SECOND FLOOR WINDOW BOX

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight, 7:30; sun rises tomorrow, 6:35.

We know a woman who says she keeps the family car clean because she doesn't like to see it dirty all the time. She does a nice job of cleaning we have noticed.

No doubt the congressmen want a vacation so they can get back home and do some cleaning for the fall election. No doubt some of them are a bit nervous.

Some people are not going to do any housecleaning this spring. They don't want to do it themselves and cannot get any one to do it for them is the main reason. This will please some married men.

"Frederick, can you tell me where you were in 1920?"
"No, why?"
"Well, I'm worried. Here is the Almanac it says that in 1920, one person out of every 750 was in prison."

"I hear your husband isn't drinking any more." "Well, maybe he isn't drinking any more, but he's certainly drinking as much."

It is again predicted that the 17-year locust will be with us this summer. How are you betting?

Girls may seem more sophisticated, but they never learn that tears won't move a man who has lost interest.

A good listener is a person who can think of something to say when he can't.

A man in Illinois wants a divorce because he washed his wife's back and she refused to wash his back.

The groundless rumor covers the ground rapidly.

Don't believe all who agree with you. Some people are bored by argument.

We heard a lady say that her husband's income, as a rule, is about 5 a. m.

JUVENILE LOGIC
The music teacher was explaining signs in music. "If," said she, "'f' means forte, what does 'ff' mean?" "Eighty," shouted an enthusiastic child.

Overheard on the bus: "I'd rather be a widow's second husband any old time than her first."

And on the other hand, the right kind of people do not have unpleasant neighbors.

A bad ending means a bad beginning.

Overheard on the bus: "She wore a party dress that looked like she had been poured into it and forgot to say when."

Sure, you can become a millionaire too... just like Ford or Edison... IF you are willing to work as hard as they did to get started.

An optimist is a person who breaks six fresh eggs into the same bowl.

Don't trust a weekly magazine that has a "policy." It's writers have facts to support the publisher's opinions.

Fathers must go, if necessary; but it's a crime to draft them while thousands of single men are deferred.

Most old bachelors are charming and courtly to women, but their way of life reveals what they really think.

The advantage in government by law and fixed policy is that it keeps on working when feelings are hurt.

Modern education: Giving youngsters enough learning to doubt everything, but not enough to be sure of anything.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TRAIN TODDLER TO REMAIN IN BED

As the days grow longer, hundreds of thousands of tots are waking earlier and earlier in the morning. This means they are getting less sleep than they need.

Any youngster from two to six can be trained to sleep up to any reasonable regular hour in the morning, and at very little immediate trouble to him and his mother.

Having trained your toddler over a period of several months in the unambiguous meaning of No (my bulletin on how to do this may be had in the usual way for postage), tell him as he goes to bed tonight, he must not rise to his feet tomorrow morning until you call for him or the clock rings.

Knowing when he usually has been waking too early, be on hand a few minutes earlier so as to spank him the instant he does rise before the designated time. If you are consistent and he is faced surely with the inevitable, the training period may not have to exceed two or three mornings.

With the world all so unbecomingly easily will go back to sleep—provided there is no doubt in his mind that your word is dependable.

Same Rising Time

Let his rising time be exactly the same each morning the year round. Don't be so foolish as to expect him to sleep later on Sunday or holidays. When old enough, he might be educated to get himself up on these mornings at the regular time and entertain himself quietly, in case you wish to sleep longer. Many parents have tried this same plan for every morning. While it might enable the mother to sleep as long as she likes, it does not insure adequate sleep to the youngster.

Many a tot, even a child as old as six, will keep calling his mother to his bedside, finding all sorts of excuses to gain attention and keep awake for one or more hours after going to bed. For correction, announce calmly to the child he is preparing for bed that since he is getting so big you are not going to come to him any more after he goes to bed. But don't tell him not to call to you. Just command yourself.

Stick To Routine

After you have tucked him in and ministered tenderly to him over the usual items of the bedtime ritual, ask him if he can think of anything else he wants. When he can think of no more, give him a final goodnight and leave without further ceremony. If he desires it, leave the door ajar with the light on outside it. Keep your word no matter how often or loudly he calls. One mother told me this would not work for said she, "I tried it eighteen times last night!"

Before beginning this treatment, be sure the tot has learned by day the meaning of No, else he might decide to come to you in case you fail to go to him. This and other sleep problems I discuss far more at length in my bulletin on "Sleep Problems" to be had by writing me at 235 East 45th Street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. What do you consider your best book for parents applying to various ages of the child?
A. The Modern Parent.

Q. How might a parent help a high school child who has trouble with home work in English and History?
By reading some of his lessons to him and showing him how to turn each paragraph into a few words of his own.

Q. When is it advisable to start a baby drinking milk from a cup?
A. When the child is five or six months old, but do not hope to accomplish the change in a few months. Be happy if you have gained complete success when the child is a year or nearly two years old. Give up each time the baby shows resistance but keep on trying over intervals of several days.

Q. My boy, 13, reads no books for pleasure, only those absolutely required of him at school.
A. He probably is a poor reader. You and I don't choose to do for pleasure what we do poorly. "Home" Help for Parents, "Part II" may be had for postage by sending me a three-cent stamp on a self-addressed envelope at 235 East 45th Street, New York City.

Q. Our son, ten, and daughter, seven, both rank high on the I. Q. test at school but they are always fighting, saying biting words and sometimes striking each other. A self-addressed stamped envelope is enclosed.

A. There is no evidence that high intelligence reduces quarreling and fighting at home or abroad. My bulletin, "Fighting and Quarreling" is enclosed.

GOGGLES

What is more important than our eyes?

We should take good care of them. Proper goggles afford good protection.

The larger industrial plants look after this problem very well. Smaller concerns and individual workmen are not usually so careful.

In any occupation where there is the slightest danger from flying particles, goggles should be worn. There are many different kinds. The goggles should be suited to the job.

Women workers can get goggles which look all right. Goggles should be properly fitted and should be comfortable to wear.

They should allow for good vision and be ventilated.

They should not help much if they are not used.

Some Republican Senators Shy At Dewey
Vandenberg And Taft Have Own Candidates
Elmer Davis Gets Bonquet From White House

(By Central Press)

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Many Republican members of the Senate are tight-rope walking when it comes to the question of whether they want to see New York's Governor Thomas E. Dewey stampede the GOP convention in Chicago.

Without exception, these senators will support Dewey if he gets the presidential nomination, but they are speaking softly now. They do not want to commit themselves until Dewey gets the prize—if he does.

Their most-frequently heard comment on this subject is simply this: "I will support the candidate of the party."

Two of the most powerful Republican members of the Senate, however, are growing increasingly outspoken in pushing their favorite candidates. These are Senators Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan and Robert Taft of Ohio.

Vandenberg is the original Senate champion of Gen. Douglas MacArthur. Months ago Taft—asserting he would not even try to obtain the nomination—came out flatly for Ohio Governor John Bricker. There is some speculation, incidentally, that Taft would be named to a cabinet post if Bricker got the nomination and won.

But Bricker's chances appear far from rosy if Dewey chooses to seek the nomination and the Republican winds blow fair and warm from the New York gubernatorial mansion this spring.

OWI Director Elmer Davis, just returned from a Florida vacation, heard more glad news atop his recent victory for control of the overseas operation of his agency.

A White House source passed the word that President Roosevelt thinks Davis is doing a fine job. This is about the first time such a commendation from on high has reached the ears of Newsmen Davis. He has spent most of his time working against big odds and much criticism in an effort to make OWI a success.

At least one congressman believes too many medals are being dished out by the War and Navy Departments in World War I.

He is Representative Tom Martin of Iowa, a member of the House military affairs committee and a veteran of World War I.

"It's getting so some of our awards for valor are being indiscriminately handed out," Martin declared. "During World War I the soldiers received them for exceptional bravery and meritorious action. Today a flyer who makes so many missions gets an award automatically."

Martin maintained that "medals by the bushel" destroy the prime purpose of their award—reward for bravery beyond the call of duty.

The Iowa congressman also criticized the recent House resolution giving Admiral Chester W. Nimitz the Distinguished Service Medal, declaring such action should be taken by the War and Navy departments—not Congress.

"Before long," he said, "congressmen will be popping up with resolutions to award medals to service men in their districts."

War Manpower Commission officials have had to swallow their pride lately and take a back seat. The current production-versus-draft controversy has been folded over their heads. WMC Chairman Paul V. McNutt was in Des Moines, Ia., telling a news conference about the beauties of the occupational deferment system when he was handed a copy of President Roosevelt's recent memorandum ordering review of all occupational deferments. The development was started by the military and McNutt had known nothing of it.

Later, when he returned to Washington, he voiced his resentment at a cabinet meeting.

We might sneer, but we don't. We know that the Australians have fought bravely and effectively by the side of our men. They are among the world's finest warriors. And we know that the Australians are interested in the welfare of their country after the war. They don't want it wrecked by ideas they can't support. We know, too, that most of our men will be coming home at the first opportunity and there is no good reason for causing needless confusion.

Therefore, we must look with sympathy upon the suggestion that our men in Australia should be treated as men in Australia so that there will be no disparity between the money given our soldiers and theirs. The money withheld from our men, it has been suggested, should be saved and paid to them when they come home.

From this distance the suggestion has a sensible ring, although our men on the scene likely will be loath to admit its reasonableness.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERIC BRANDEIS

I just read a story in my paper that gave me a chuckle. The headline was "Mr. Ford Is Optimistic."

It quotes a copyrighted interview for the Atlantic Constitution, in which Henry Ford expresses his opinion that the war will be over in two months, without giving his reasons.

But the statement that made me chuckle was when he gave his solution for the world's troubles: "The way I see it, greeds, creeds and boundary lines must go."

I remember one time many years ago when I was a cub reporter out in California.

Henry Ford with Thomas Edison and Harvey Firestone, the tire man, were visiting Luther Burbank, the plant wizard, at his home in Santa Rosa.

I had been assigned to "cover" the story, and was traveling with the illustrious party.

One day Henry Ford and I were sitting on a bench in San Francisco. On a building near the Presidio, the flags of several nations were flying.

Henry pointed to the flags and said:

"That's what's causing all the trouble. Flags, nationalism, just for power."

Same View

And he kept on and expressed practically the same view attributed to him in the Atlantic interview.

The other world war was then still on. Henry Ford had sent his peace ship to Europe to "get the boys out of the trenches by Christmas."

Unquestionably Henry Ford has the right formula. Greed, creeds and boundary lines are causing most of the world's troubles.

But 1940 some years of Christianity haven't done away with them, and how much closer are we to Henry Ford Utopia today than we were in the year 1 AD or 3000 BC?

The war is still burning in its full fury and already Greed, Creeds and Boundary Lines have joined the ranks of our enemies.

Hitler tried to solve two of the problems—by destroying religion he would have done away with Greeds, by conquering the world he would have eliminated all boundary lines. And if he had become master of all and everything there would have been no further need of Greed.

I am afraid that much as I admire Henry Ford, he has the candle not the match with which to light it.

That match, in our present primitive civilization, must still be "VICTORY"—our only hope is that our only available fuel "JUST PEACE" will keep the candle burning as long as it is humanly possible.

The World and the Mud Puddles

SOMETHING TO IT

Americans may be inclined to make short shrift of the Australian complaint that we are paying soldiers too much in comparison with the Down Under soldiers. I isn't right, the Australians say, for our men to demoralize their society with their ability to buy what they want and to pay more for it than the home folk pay.

We might be inclined to sneer a little at the complaint and point out that except for the services of our men the Australians now would in all probability be digging ditches for the Japs. There is no doubt that our timely arrival in Port Moresby and the long painful fight northward saved Australia from a fate its people do not want to contemplate.

We might sneer, but we don't. We know that the Australians have fought bravely and effectively by the side of our men. They are among the world's finest warriors. And we know that the Australians are interested in the welfare of their country after the war. They don't want it wrecked by ideas they can't support. We know, too, that most of our men will be coming home at the first opportunity and there is no good reason for causing needless confusion.

Therefore, we must look with sympathy upon the suggestion that our men in Australia should be treated as men in Australia so that there will be no disparity between the money given our soldiers and theirs. Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

At first a little group they stood
Eager, happy and content,
One and all in doing good
Time and strength and money spent.

Then in an unfortunate hour
Some resented use of power.

Thus the group was split in two.
Envy, rage and strife began.
Some in bitterness withdrew
Boasting they'd a wiser plan.

But where peace had reigned before
Wild dissension held the floor.

"Further, further to the right!"
"Further to the left!" they cried.
Each professing clearer sight
To command the purpose, tried.

Thus what might have ended well
Into dissolution fell.

Is it here we humans all
Into self-destructive ship?
Is the snail's pace and leadership
And so fond of power are we
Peace on earth can never be?

Four Army Units Commended By Gen. Mark Clark

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(INS)—The War department announced today that Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark, commanding general of the Fifth Army in Italy, has awarded three American companies and a British unit the Fifth Army service plaque and clasp for "outstanding devotion to duty under most difficult conditions."

Gen. Clark authorized the new award as a means of giving recognition and honor to Fifth Army service units keeping the guns, ammunition and equipment rolling forward to the men at the front.

The first units to win this distinction are the 24th Chemical Decontamination company, composed of Negro enlisted men, the 180th Signal Repair company, the 90th Ordnance Heavy Maintenance company, and the British 46th Survey company.

With New Castle Afro-Americans

Church of God in Christ, Moravia street, will have a program at the church this evening with Elder Pitts, of Beaver Falls, as the speaker. There will be solos, readings, and papers given, with selections by the Keystone quartet.

The calendar club of St. Luke's A. M. E. Zion church will meet this evening at eight o'clock at the home of Mrs. Josie Butler, 317 Mahoning avenue. Plans are to be completed for a concert to be given at the church Wednesday evening, April 12. The Kings of Harmony, a well-known negro group of Birmingham, Ala., will sing here for the first time.

The senior choir, members of St. Luke church and the pastor will go to Sewickley Thursday at eight o'clock to worship at the Metropolitan A. M. E. Zion church. Cars will leave the church at 6:30.

The membership of the Bethel A. M. E. Zion church and the St. Luke A. M. E. Zion church will gather at St. Luke church Friday evening at eight o'clock for the annual celebration of the love feast.

The meeting of the F. H. C. club has been postponed until Thursday, April 13, when it will meet with Mrs. Hannah Braswell, of Mahoning avenue.

Brenda — Will You Step Out With Me Tonight?

I know I've been an awful grouch not taking you any place lately. But after standing all day at my new job, my feet darn near killed me with callouses and burning. Now I've reformed — or rather my feet have — thanks to the Ice-Mint you advised. Never tried anything that seemed to draw the pain and fire right out so fast — and the way it helps soften callouses is nobody's business! Been able to get some extra overtime money — so what do you say, let's go dancing tonight. You can step on my Ice-Mint feet all you want.

Four-H Leaders Have Conference

Plans For Coming Year Outlined At Annual Meeting Held Tuesday

Plans for the coming year and a review of the accomplishments during the past year, took place at the annual meeting of Lawrence County 4-H Club leaders at a luncheon meeting in the Y. W. C. A. Tuesday noon, with Mrs. W. H. McCullough presiding.

Singing was led by Geraldine McCullough, former 4-H Club member, and discussion of various phases of the work was led by Mrs. K. K. McCullough, of the Hickory Club; Mrs. C. E. Campbell, Mahoning Club; Mrs. Fred Anderson, West Pittsburgh Club; Miss Dorothy McAnis, Big Beaver; and Mrs. Fred Taylor, of Pulaski township, former Home Economics Extension Representative in the county.

Miss Elsie Trabert, assistant state 4-H Club director, told of the work of the 4-H Club throughout the state, and at a meeting of the leaders held in the Agricultural Extension Association office following, spoke about the leader's part in the 4-H Club project.

Miss Josephine Simpson, Home Economics Extension Representative, spoke on the importance of getting off to a good start in 1944. The slogan for 4-H members in 1944 is "Produce, Conserve, and Serve."

Says Reports Are Quite Premature

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(INS)—The White House today intimated that London reports of another forthcoming meeting between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill were premature if not entirely speculative.

Commenting on the reports from London, Presidential Secretary Stephen T. Early said: "I am certainly not going to help London fly any trial balloon."

Speaker Rayburn May Be Named To Appear Texas

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(INS)—Speaker Sam Rayburn's vice-presidential stock boomed today in the wake of repudiations over the supreme court decision voiding the Democratic "white primary" in Texas.

This was reported in congressional circles today as more than one member of Congress said the high court ruling may result in Texas deserting President Roosevelt in a fourth term candidacy.

Selection of Rayburn, a Texan, would be a natural means of appealing the south in the opinion of some congressional political observers.

Amazing way to be Mentally ALERT ...Physically FIT!

1—Promote the flow of vital digestive juices in the stomach
2—Energize your body with RICH, RED BLOOD!

THESE two important steps may help you to overcome the discomforts or embarrassment of sour stomach, jerky nerves, loss of appetite, indigestion, digestive complaints, weakness, poor complexion!

A person who is operating on only a 70 to 75% healthy blood volume or a stomach digestive capacity of only 50 to 60% normal is severely handicapped. So with ample stomach digestive juices PLUS RICH, RED-BLOOD you should enjoy that sense of well-being which denotes physical fitness... mental alertness!

If you are subject to poor digestion or suspect deficient red-blood as the cause of your trouble, yet have no organic complication or focal infection, SSS Tonic may be just what you need as it is especially designed to promote the flow of VITAL DIGESTIVE JUICES in the stomach and (2) to build-up BLOOD STRENGTH when deficient.

Build Sturdy Health and Help America Win

MARCH PROVES WINTRY MONTH

More Snow Recorded Than Year Ago, With Colder Temperatures, Records Show

March proved a little more wintry than usual the records of U. S. Weather Observer B. F. Johnson reveal, the average daily temperature being 1.2 degrees below normal, while the snowfall was just double that of a year ago, with the precipitation being slightly above the normal.

The mean maximum temperature was 45.4 degrees, the mean minimum was 26 degrees, and the monthly mean, or average, 35.7 degrees. The highest temperature was 74 degrees on the 15th and 16th, while the lowest temperature was 13 degrees, recorded on several days, the latest being the 19th of the month.

The precipitation during the month was 3.32 inches, which was 28 inches over the normal. The greatest precipitation in any one day was 57 inches on the 7th. Total snowfall amounted to 10.1 inches, the greatest in one day being 3.7 inches on the 4th of the month. Days with .01 inches or more of precipitation were 17, while days with 25 inches or more were 6. Days clear were 5, partly cloudy, 9, and cloudy 17.

In March of 1943, the temperature was 1.8 degrees above the normal and the precipitation was 36 inches over the normal, being almost identical with this year. There was only 5.7 inches of snow, however. The highest temperature in March 1943 was 79 degrees, but the lowest was one degree below zero, a greater variation being shown.

Plan To Complete Thiel Dormitory

GREENVILLE, April 5.—Following a complete discussion of the necessity for completing the Thiel college women's dormitory at the earliest possible date, a meeting of over 30 representative Greenville people in the Penn Power company basement agreed that Greenville should raise $35,000 of the approximately $150,000 required to complete and equip the building.

Chairman Frank L. Fay, of the college board of trustees, who called the meeting, outlined the status of the building and its primary importance to the future of the college, and indicated that Greenville people would make the college administration very happy if it would contribute $25,000. After full discussion of the need, however, in which it was recognized that the total from all sources would still be short, enough to finish the job, the citizens present insisted on increasing the Greenville contribution to $35,000.

Conservation Of State's Forests After War Plan

HARRISBURG, April 5.—(INS)—Conservation of Pennsylvania's forestry resources was looked upon today by the department of forests and waters as a major part of the state's post-war planning.

Secretary of Forests and Waters James A. Kell, speaking at a dinner meeting of the Municipal Post-war Planning Institute at the state capitol, said the department's post-war projects included reforestation, timber improvement, upkeep of roads and trails, maintenance of 800 miles of telephone lines and development of recreational areas.

Michael Baker Jr. of Rochester, consulting engineer and planner, told the group at yesterday's session that "Pennsylvanians are too complacent about holding their position gained through the war" and added that unless "we plan attractive communities and get ready now to compete with the industries of other war boom states, we may lose many skilled workers as well as many new industries."

The institute's final sessions will be held today.

Relates Interesting Experiences Of Combat Duty

Two interesting speakers were heard at the regular dinner-meeting of the Wolves club Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock, held at the Castleton Hotel, following a delicious meal.

Ross D. Rosenberger, the principal speaker, spoke on "Fundamental Economic Principles," explaining the need for the wise spending of money. He was introduced by the program chairman, James Lombardo.

Gunnery's mate third class, Matthew Viggiano of the U. S. Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rocco Viggiano, 208 Pollock avenue, was introduced by A. N. Carbon, Gunnery's Mate Viggiano is home on a leave lasting with his parents, following 10 months of service, 10 months of which were overseas. He related several of his interesting experiences while on combat duty on the seas. He will report for duty on Easter Sunday. Another guest attending was Matt Kolbe of Cleveland.

Program chairman, James Lombardo, announced the next smoker as scheduled on April 12, at Sylvan Heights. The usual bowling session was enjoyed afterwards by the members.

CENTRE COUNTY IRON MINES REOPENING

PHILIPSBURG, April 5.—Centre county's iron ore mines, famous many years ago, will be reopened and operated by Federal Government through Defense Plant Corp. under plans embodied in $500,000 contract awarded to Scotia Mining Co. It was announced here.

Construction of processing plant, power line and 4-mile railroad spur from State College are listed as projects in connection with the mines, which have been closed since 1920. Andrew Carnegie operated mines from 1811 to 1911, before turning to Lake Superior ore deposits to supply his Pittsburgh steel mills.

H. M. Wallace, Sunbury, president of Scotia company, said local capital will provide additional $100,000 to government's $500,000 for project.

Seek Supremacy Of Skies To Win War For Allies

LONDON, April 5.—(INS)—British Air Marshal Sir Richard Peck, assistant chief of the air staff of the Royal Air Force, declared in a speech today that although the Allies now have aerial superiority over the Reich they still must fight to gain supremacy in the sky.

"We and the Americans are fighting to convert superiority in that area into supremacy," the air marshal said.

He emphasized the necessity for retaining command of the air after the war. He declared that the majority of German fighter strength, including 1,500,000 anti-aircraft personnel and 2,000,000 civil defense workers now are tied up in defensive roles.

"The Axis made mistakes in the use of air power which already has cost them air superiority and will thus lose them the war," he added.

Planes of the India-China wing of the U. S. Air Transport Command flying over the Himalayas are now carrying more military supplies into China than went by the Burma Road.

Economize ON ELECTRICITY

Uncle Sam is asking you to guard against any kind of waste, and practice war-time economy in your use of electricity. Of course, electricity isn't rationed nor is it scarce, but economic use will bring about the saving of fuel, man power, and critical materials. We recommend this conservation as our part in the National Conservation Program. The coal, oil, gas, electric, water, transportation and communication industries are co-operating in this activity. Some helpful ways to prevent waste of electricity are given below.

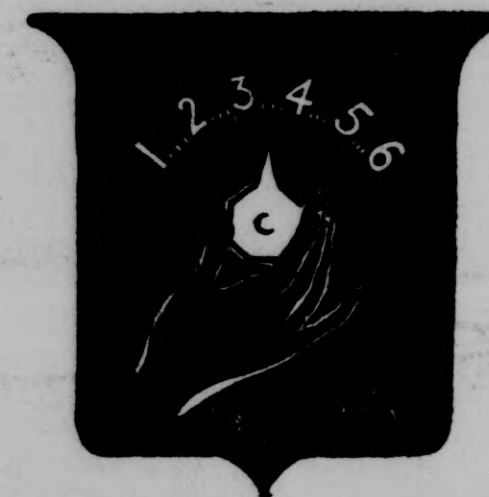

Dusting your lamp shades and bulbs once a week can increase light output as much as 30 per cent.

Use the right lamp for every lighting need. You get 50% more light from a 150 watt globe than you do from three fifty watters.

Set hot foods aside to cool off to room temperature before you store them in your refrigerator.

Keep your refrigerator at medium or economical operating speed. Defrost once a week and add years of life to your refrigerator.

PEW FARM MAY BECOME PART OF GIRL'S REPUBLIC

MERCER, April 5.—The farm of John N. Pew on the Grove City-Mercer road may become part of the George Junior Republic. The directors of the Republic recently inspected the farm's two large dwellings and other buildings to determine if they could be used in establishing a home for girls.

For the past four years the Republic has devoted its entire time to handling delinquent boys and the demand has been so great that there is no room for girls.

The Pew farm, once the home of John Pew, is now owned by the estate, including his son, Joseph Pew. It is said Mr. Pew is willing to donate his farm for use by the Republic.

Navy Men Speak To Lions Club

Fine Program Is Presented
At Meeting In Castleton,
Tuesday Noon

New Castle Lions Club members had an interesting program at their noon luncheon meeting, Tuesday, when Past President George P. Winter, Jr., Radioman 2 c Val Kish, and Vernon Thomas, of the Public Relations Department of the B. and O. railroad were the speakers.

Past President Winter, who has been stationed at Great Lakes Naval Training Station, where he has been taking his boot training, told how he had been aided in his training work by the training he had received as a Boy Scout and Sea Scout.

Radioman Val Kish, who has just returned after eight months service in the Southwest Pacific, told of his experiences in that area. He is a member of the Coast Guard, and has been stationed aboard a Landing Ship Tanks craft. His boat took part in two initial landings, and was also in other action in the Southwest Pacific, where he received his baptism of fire at the hands of the Japs.

Strikes Are Pat Peeves

The one thing that is hard on our soldiers and sailors is the extreme heat in that section, which he states is hardly a fit place for a white man to live. Elephantiasis and malaria are the worst afflictions of the tropic area, and have affected large numbers of our men, he stated.

Strikes back home here are the pet peeves of the men in the armed forces, he stated. The men at the fighting front, undergoing all kinds of misery and privation, cannot understand the attitude of the men back home, striking over petty grievances, when they have so much to be thankful for.

He stated that the Japs which are being encountered in the Guadalcanal and Bougainville districts now are not capable of putting up the resistance encountered by our men in the early stages of the war, but felt that the conflict with the Japs would still last for some time.

Mr. Thomas told of the tremendous part that the railroads have been playing in the war effort. He termed transportation the "fourth front" and stated that the railroads have been doing their part in the war effort in spite of the fact that they have been unable to renew their equipment as they should.

Records Broken

All transportation records were broken in 1943. Mr. Thomas pointed out, when a new high mark for transporting both freight and passengers was established. Ten million troops were carried on special trains during the past year, besides the other passenger traffic and freight haulage. This has imposed a terrific strain on the railroads, resulting in the equipment gradually wearing out, but the roads have been able to carry on due to better railroading practices and cooperation.

He predicted a five per cent increase in the railroad business next year. In spite of the vast number of passengers carried, the safety record of the railroads has been 70 per cent better than it was in World War One.

Chairman Charles Lumley, announced that the annual Tail Twisters ball will be held on Wednesday, April 19.

Jury Acquits Charlie Chaplin

LOS ANGELES, April 5.—(INS)—A pathetically grateful Charlie Chaplin today stood acquitted of Mann Act charges involving Joan Barry, the red-headed former protégée who still figures as the leading lady in two other court actions against one of the world's richest actors.

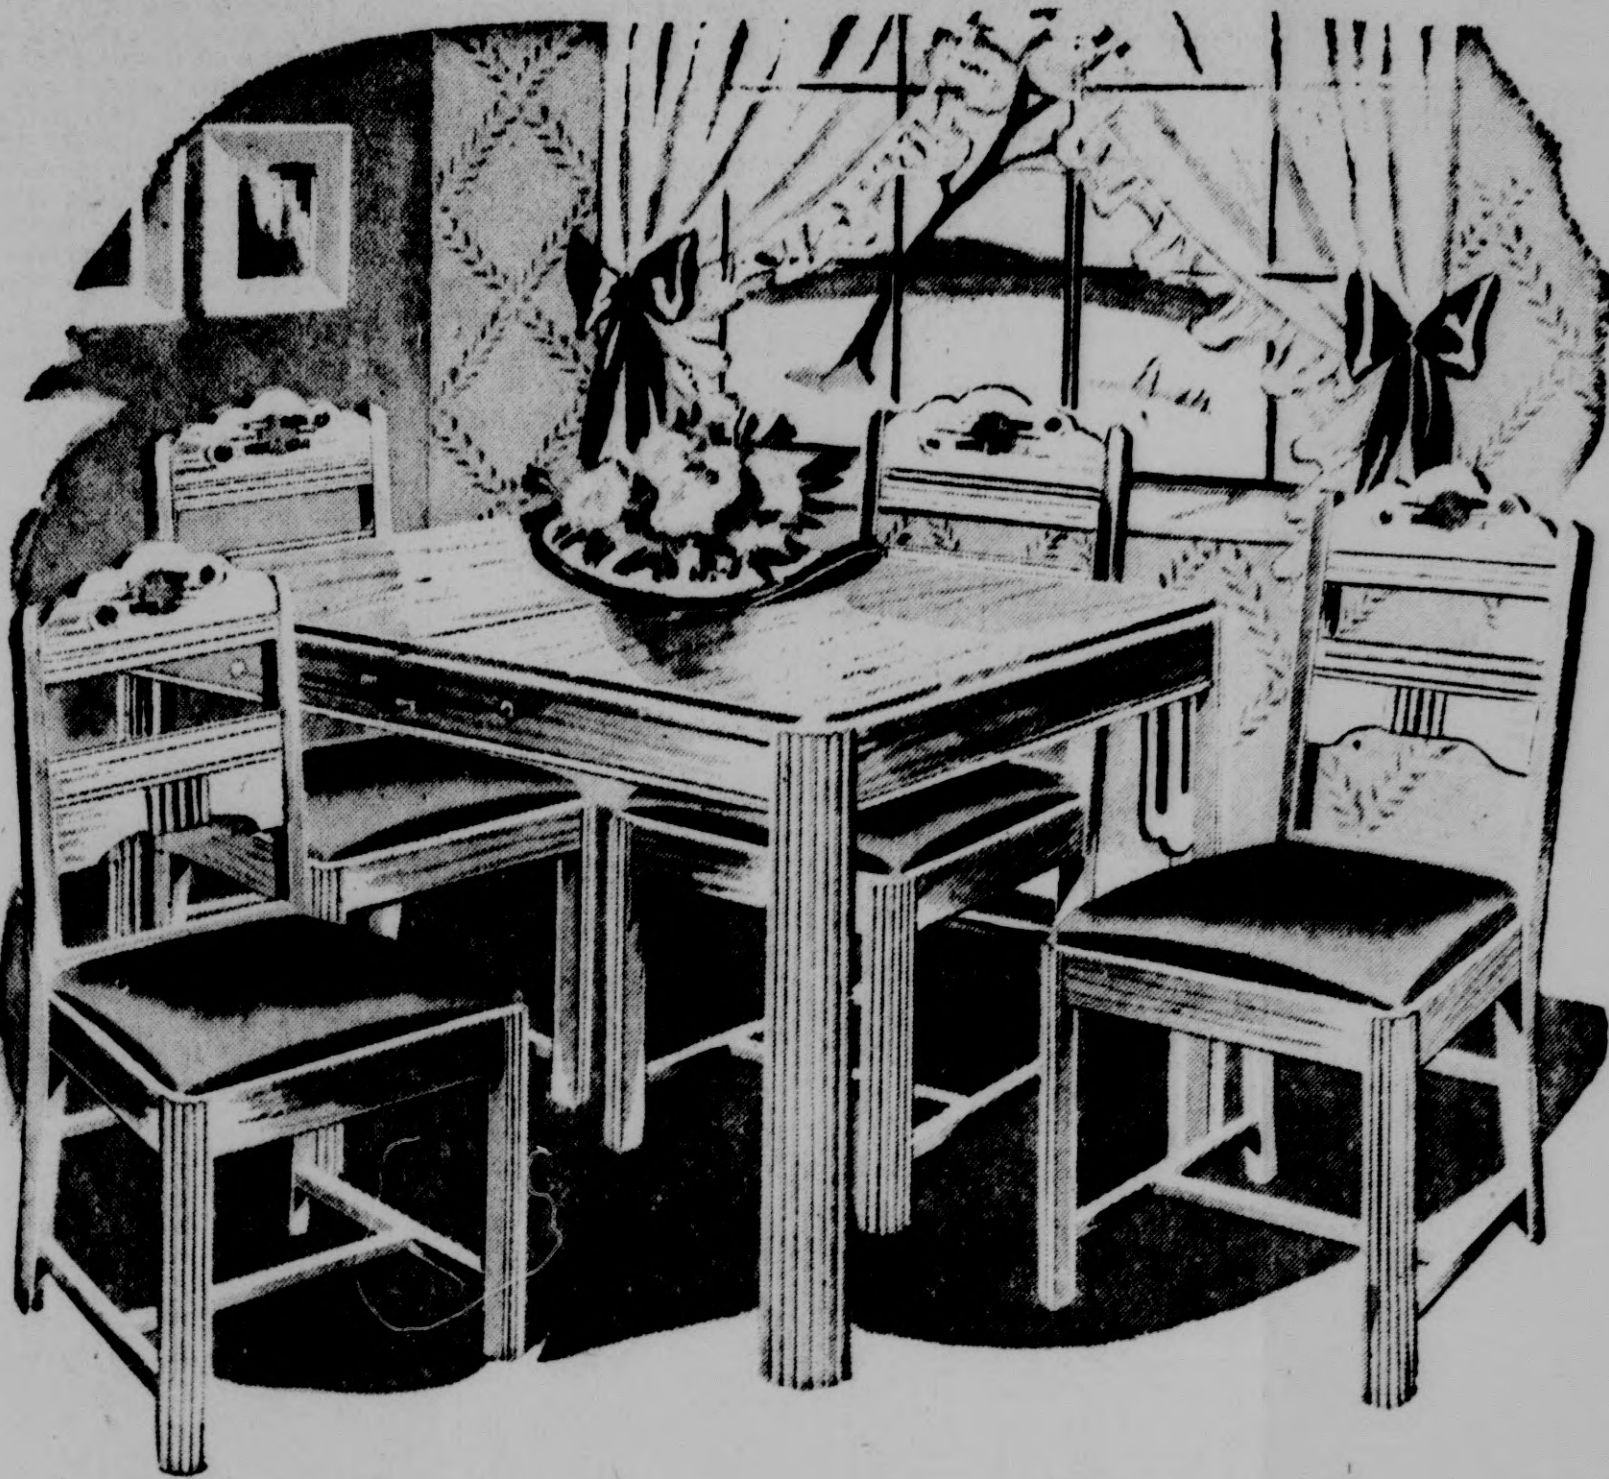

His near-sighted blue eyes moist as he realized he had been cleared of the government's accusations that he had taken Miss Barry to New York and back "to be his mistress," the 54-year-old Chaplin hastily shook hands with the jury which granted him freedom and then raced home to his 18-year-old bride, Oona O'Neill Chaplin, an expectant mother.

Elimination Of Grade Crossings Delayed By War

HARRISBURG, April 5.—The Pennsylvania Department of Highways today announced that a total of 172 grade-crossing elimination jobs, at a cost in excess of $100,000,000, is now in the "study stage" for future consideration.

Of this number, eight uncompleted jobs are held over from 1939, 1941 and 1942.

All types of grade-crossing elimination work are under consideration including overhead and under-grade crossings, also elimination of crossing by relocation of the highway or railroad.

In addition to new projects under consideration, there are also on the I.C.C. finance dockets 41 proceedings instituted by the various railroads for abandonment of non-paying lines of presently existing short-line railroads. In these instances where such proposals for abandonment are approved by the I.C.C., costs of restoration of the highway is at the expense of the interested railroad company.

In keeping with its policy, the Federal Government assumes full control of grade-crossing costs of a job up to 3,000 feet of construction, but insists that the state exercise supervision over the jobs when completed, and make the regularly required reports to the government.

War-time restrictions and the use of critical materials has forced abandonment of present plans to go ahead with much necessary grade-crossing work, but immediately upon cessation of hostilities, with the renewal of a free flow of materials and equipment necessary for the various jobs, Pennsylvania will begin at once on its vast system of grade-crossing elimination construction.

BUTLER COUNTY DISTRICT ATTORNEY CALLED BY ARMY

BUTLER, April 5.—District Attorney Clyde S. Shumaker today was awaiting a call to active army service with the next group leaving Butler county.

He passed his physical examination at Pittsburgh last week and expects to have about 21 days in which to dispose of pending official matters.

After Mr. Shumaker leaves for military service it will be the duty of County Judge William B. Purvis to appoint his successor for the remainder of his term.

Clemons Held For June Court

Preliminary Hearing Given
In Alleged Axe Slaying
On Tuesday

David Clemons, 26, who allegedly murdered his father, Wilson E. Clemons, 57, with an axe about seven a. m. April 1, was held for Lawrence county grand jury, June term, following a preliminary hearing on a charge of murder Tuesday afternoon before Alderman C. L. Mantz. Both are colored.

The charge was worn to by City Police Chief Robert D. Hanna. The defendant was not represented by counsel. He did not cross-examine any of the state's witnesses, although given that opportunity. District Attorney LeRoy Donaldson represented the commonwealth.

Coroner Testifies

Coroner T. F. Nugent testified of having examined the body of the murdered man in a rear yard between 403 and 405 Mahoning avenue. The Wilsons reside at 403 Mahoning avenue.

The coroner testified he found at the scene of the crime, on the front of the dead man's head a deep indentation due to some instrument, and fracture of the right arm, and blood on the ground.

Dr. H. E. Harper performed the autopsy, the coroner stated. He added he was present. On the top of the head, back of the eyes, the skull was broken and also broken again in the rear of that fracture, he asserted.

He said also the autopsy showed a fragment of the skull had penetrated the brain and gave as the cause of death "crushed skull".

Pick Up Axe and Hatchet at Scene
The coroner testified the city police had picked up an axe and hatchet. The axe was coated with blood, he asserted, and said death could have been caused by the axe.

When given the opportunity to question the witness, David Clemons, the defendant, began talking about when he was in the county jail, and mentioned something about a doctor.

However, he was informed by the district attorney that "that was about another case." The defendant stopped talking.

Police Lieut. G. S. Kennedy testified of having gone to 403 Mahoning avenue and of having found the body and a double-headed axe and hatchet lying in front of the elder Clemons' body. He said that other officers and he had found Mr. Clemons' hat and also a cap and they learned from neighbors the cap was owned by David Clemons. He testified W. G. McMullen, police captain; City Detective John Moore and County Detective Charles Ross went to Farrell to search for David Clemons.

Clemons said he had no questions to ask.

Learned of Trouble

City Detective John Moore testified of going to the scene, turning over the body and recognizing the slain man as Wilson E. Clemons. He learned the father and son had had some trouble, and said that "we located Clemons in Farrell trying to get his money (pay) at the National Malleable company office."

Moore testified he was present when the defendant was questioned and confessed to striking his father. City Chief of Police Robert D. Hanna testified to having filed the complaint on which the charge of murder was based, was present when the defendant was questioned and said David admitted the offense. The chief also testified he was present when David Clemons was taken to the scene of the crime and re-enacted the alleged murder.

The district attorney asked the aidman to hold the defendant for June term of grand jury. The aidman did.

According to the alleged confession, an argument between the elder and younger Clemons over the setting of an alarm clock and of it going off late on the morning of April 1.

The young man claimed his father had a hatchet in his pocket and that when the father ran out of the house he followed him, and it was then that the fatal blow reportedly was delivered with the double-headed axe.

20 Million Pounds Of Rags Wanted In April

HARRISBURG — Pennsylvanians were asked today to turn in 20,000,000 pounds of rags during April for the war salvage program.

An appeal was sent out to all county and local salvage committees by Colley S. Baker, executive secretary of the advisory committee on salvage of the State Council of Defense.

"As a result of the steadily increasing demand for rags by the armed forces and defense plants, we have been requested to immediately launch a campaign for the acceleration of collections throughout the state," said Baker.

"Virtually all rag production today is for war purposes. The Army and Navy, as well as war plants, are demanding more wiping cloths than the industry is able to provide, and inventories of rag dealers are approximately 25 per cent below normal. In spite of the fact that homes have rags available, dealers have not been able to gather them because of a serious drop in manpower. New wool imports from overseas also have been drastically reduced by lack of shipping facilities."

"It is for the purpose of relieving this situation that we are now asking salvage committees to undertake a stimulated rag collection program in connection with charities and rag dealers, and dependent upon a local market for rags collected."

Give Identity Of Woman Flier Killed In Crash

MIDDLETOWN, Pa., April 5.—(INS)—An army woman pilot who was killed near New Cumberland when her P-38 fighter plane crashed was identified today as Miss Evelyn Sharp, 24, of Las Vegas, Nev. She was attached to the army air forces ferrying command.

The Middletown air service command announced that she was stationed at Long Beach, Calif., and was on routine flight from Columbus, O., to Newark, N. J. Her plane crashed shortly after she took off from an air field near New Cumberland.

A committee of officers at the Middletown air service command was named to investigate the accident. The victim's mother, Mrs. Mary Sharp of Las Vegas, has been notified.

Woman May Fill Police Force Gap

FARRELL, April 5.—It may be necessary for women to invade the sanctity of the police station if Uncle Sam continues to put his finger on members of the police force, according to Mayor Lewis Levine.

The mayor stated that he is thinking seriously of putting a woman on the desk to work the 7:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. shift. Women are doing the work in the Sharon police station and their work is said to be satisfactory.

Mayor Levine was empowered by resolution at a recent special meeting of council to appoint temporary police officers for the duration. An already acute situation was made more so when Carl McCartney, veteran policeman, ended his tenure Friday to take a position with the Sharon post office.

Senator Byrd Is Advanced As Likely Leader

PHILADELPHIA, April 5.—(INS)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D. Va.) was advanced today as the possible leader of a third party which might "easily turn the tide" against a fourth term for President Roosevelt.

That possibility was stressed today in a Saturday Evening Post article by Forrest Davis, associate editor, who said that only a landslide vote for the president could sweep aside the strength of a projected third party movement.

Davis, widely known political analyst, said that the Draft-Byrd-For-President campaign, started by a group of New Orleans business men, is growing. He also noted that the junior senator from Virginia has been invited to run in the primaries of several southern states.

"The disaffection in the south," he said, "although not too articulate, is bone deep—some say more profound than at any time since 1860—and should it find expression, the results might gravely affect this year's election."

Byrd will have little chance of blocking a fourth term nomination at the Democratic national convention, Davis wrote, but he added: "If he enters the Chicago contest, he will not lead a subsequent revolt. If, on the contrary, he stands off pressure and remains out of the Chicago polling, anything may happen."

AROUND CITY HALL

Health conditions here are good according to a report issued today by an attaché of the city health bureau. At present there are no current reports of scarlet fever or measles.

Police today were searching for the Chevrolet owned by Luther Reno, R. D. 1, which was reported stolen last night. It carried State license NW738. The Ford of Burdell Riley, 824 East Washington street, stolen Monday, has not yet been found. It carried State license A3294.

Jack Fix reported to police headquarters he parked his car in Neshannock avenue last night and someone stole the fender apions.

This is the busy time for the city dog-catcher. Daily he travels to various sections and has been napping strays dogs. Canines are not supposed to run at large, whether or not they wear license tags. When such dogs are recovered the owner must pay for their board at the pound.

Streets department employees believed snowfalls were over until last night. However, the fall caused the ashing crews to become busy last night.

Tirpitz Badly Damaged In Bomber Raid

LONDON, April 5.—(INS)—Authoritative sources in London today described the latest Allied attack against the German battleship Tirpitz in a Norwegian fjord as "very successful."

Although the British planes which carried out the attack probably did not sink the enemy warship, these circles said, the battleship was believed undoubtedly suffering from a "severe headache" which probably will take many months to cure.

'TAGGED' IN 1939, GREW 14 INCHES

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—A Northern pike, tagged April 26, 1939, and caught recently by an ice fisherman in the north bay of Houghton Lake, was found to have grown 14.4 inches and gained 7 pounds, 11 ounces in the intervening four years, the state conservation department reports.

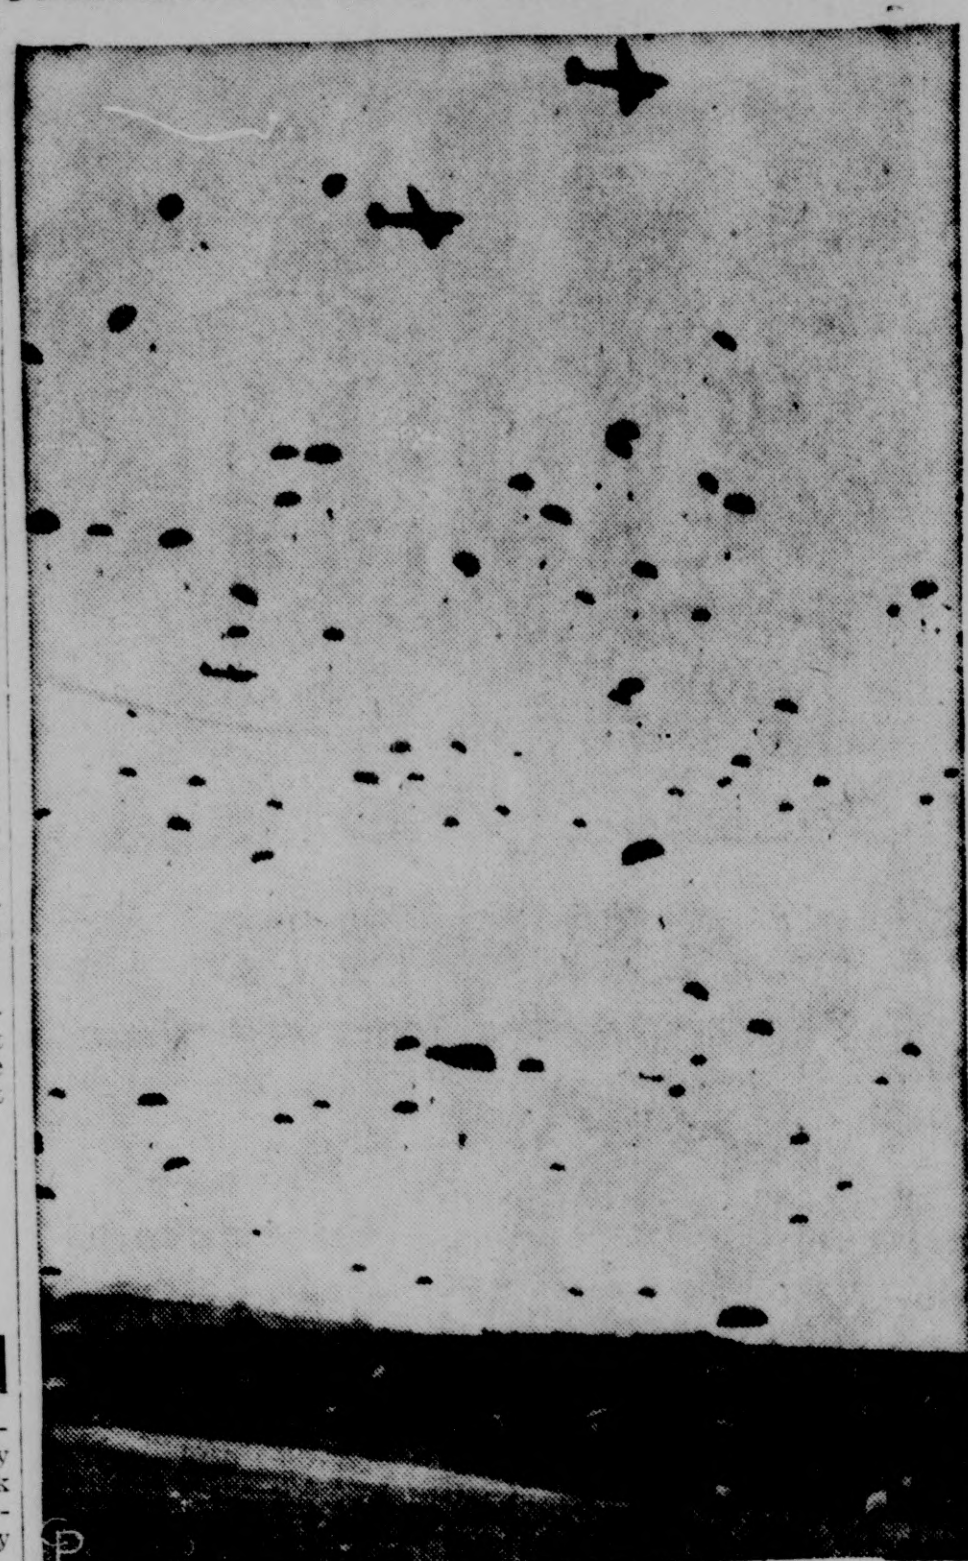

The pike was found not far from the spot where it had been tagged. The fish was one of 300 wild Northern pike tagged on the jaw by the department during the 1939 spring spawning run.

The tagging experiments were begun in 1939 to obtain information on the spawning habits, growth rate and feeding habits and migration of fish to improve fishing.

Lawrence County Farm And Home News

By Extension Representatives, LEWIS C. DAYTON, Agriculture; MISS JOSEPHINE SIMPSON, Home Economics

SHEEP SHEARERS TO BE TRAINED AT MEETINGS

Three million pounds of wool must come off the sheep of Pennsylvania this spring. This job will require many well-trained shearers. There may be a shortage of men to do this work this spring.

To meet this situation, the Pennsylvania State College agricultural extension service plans to put on a number of sheep shearing demonstrations in various sections of the state.

W. B. Connell, livestock extension specialist of the Pennsylvania State College, who is in charge of these demonstrations, says that they really are training schools for men and boys who want to learn to shear sheep and will be available to work in their own counties.

Men and boys from Lawrence county who desire to attend such a demonstration should call at the Lawrence County Agricultural Extension Office, No. 206 Post Office Building, New Castle, for details.

GROUPS MAY SCHEDULE CANNING DEMONSTRATIONS

Food canning demonstrations may be scheduled immediately by any interested club and community groups in Lawrence county desiring such, according to Miss Josephine Simpson, home economics extension representative.

Knowing that home canning of fruits and vegetables is vital war work, community groups will find that demonstrations and talks on this will help push food preservation as a war-effort contribution.

These demonstrations will be given by Mrs. Mary English, home economics extension assistant sent here from Pennsylvania State College, to assist in stressing war-food preservation for homemakers.

Mrs. English will be available for demonstrations or illustrated talks in the county on the following dates: April 11 to 15, May 1 to 13, and June 12 to 17.

Organizations should decide whether they wish to have demonstrations or talks including the latest information on canning, drying, salting, freezing, or storing fruits and vegetables.

To schedule for this, groups are advised to make contact with Miss Josephine Simpson, agricultural extension office, No. 206 Post Office Building, New Castle, or telephone New Castle 2972.

SEEDING RATES GIVEN FOR TRIPLE-PURPOSE PASTURES

Several Lawrence county farmers have used triple-purpose seeding mixtures for three or four years to provide hay, pasture or grass silage. Shortages of feed and seed, as well as more recent experimental evidence, indicate the desirability of slight changes in seeding mixtures previously used.

Extension agronomists of the Pennsylvania State College say that these mixtures are recommended only where controlled alternate mid-summer grazing is to be practiced after an early-cut hay or grass silage crop.

With the basic hay mixture No. 1 for good alfalfa land, which consists of 3 pounds timothy, 6 pounds alfalfa, and 3 pounds red clover, where production is wanted mainly for pasture on deep soils that hold moisture well, it is suggested that 4 pounds orchard grass and 1 pound Ladino clover be added. With the same basic mixture and on the same kind of soils, but where production is wanted mainly for hay, add 6 pounds smooth bromegrass and 1 pound Ladino clover.

With the basic hay mixture No. 2 for more acid, wetter soils not suited to alfalfa, which consists of 4 pounds timothy, 2 pounds alsike, and 4 pounds red clover, add 4 pounds Alta fescue and 1 pound Ladino clover, or add 6 pounds red canary grass and 1 pound Ladino clover.

Where any one of these mixtures is seeded on a prepared seedbed ### without a companion crop of small grain, and where it is desired to have grazing in the shortest time, 3 pounds of perennial ryegrass may be added. Under favorable conditions this controlled grazing may be prac- ticed within eight weeks after spring seeding and the ryegrass will fur- nish 75 per cent of the grazing at that time.

Controlled grazing after grain harvest is recommended where moisture conditions favor a heavy growth and where smothering of the slower-growing species may occur.

Best results will be obtained with: (1) Firm seedbeds, (2) high fertility (including lime), (3) pasturing off or mowing the small grain for hay, and (4) light seedings of small grain companion crops.

BECOMING HAT NEEDED TO COMPLETE COSTUME

There is magic in a becoming hat. It is the finishing touch to your costume. As part of the costume nearest the face, choose it with great care to bring out your good points.

Some of this season's hat have been developed as a result of a changing hair do. The soft natural arrangements with smooth brow and rolls low on the back of the neck call for a style of hat different from what have been wearing. However, that does not mean a general change for all women.

Just as the silhouette of a dress is the most important thing to consider, so should the silhouette of the hat emphasize your good points. Stiff, severe lines worn by a woman with a square face repeat the lines of her face and emphasize them. Softer lines and a not too small hat will be more pleasing, according to extension clothing specialists of the Pennsylvania State College. Round brims and crowns emphasize a round face and should be put aside for higher wider lines.

The hat with width on the side and low in the back, or the flat hat with irregular lines is a good choice for the woman with a long face. Stiff high quills and bows make the angular face more so. Softer lines are for this type face.

A prominent nose is balanced by a brim or by trimming placed near the front of the hat. For the receding chin, a chat of moderate size with upturned brim that centers the attention high on the head is the type to choose.

The new hat that fits the head is a development of the cloche of the 1920's, but the new one does not pull down over the face as its predecessor.

It has several versions but the deep crown low on the back of the head is decidedly a youthful version and not for the older woman who should choose one of the irregular types.

Seek To Recruit Aid On State Farms

Extra Farm Hands Are Sought
For Spring Plowing And Planting In State

HARRISBURG, April 5.—(INS)—Preparations were under way throughout Pennsylvania today to begin recruiting extra farm hands from the city for spring plowing and planting.

A. S. Frommeyer, Dauphin county farm agent, reported that each county would conduct its own drive through recruitment offices scheduled to open sometime between April 1-15. A station at Harrisburg for Dauphin county was expected to begin taking applications next week, he said.

Frommeyer declared that much of the labor would come from schools for the harder work of plowing and planting and that women would contribute most during the mid-summer harvest of vegetables.

"There are a few fellows coming back from the army who will help out on farms," he added, "but we'll have to depend most upon school youths."

Frommeyer expressed doubt that war prisoners would be used for farming in Pennsylvania. They have to be established in camps with guards, he explained, and it is too much of a task to set up living quarters for less than 250 of them. He also predicted, that little, if any, foreign labor would be used in the state.

"If they are hired at all it will be in Bucks county, the largest vegetable district and the only place they worked on Pennsylvania farms last year," he stated. "They are inexperienced in dairy and poultry farming, the largest farm industries in the state."

A survey of farm activities found that plowing was already underway in southeastern Pennsylvania and harrowing about to be started in other portions of the state.

The agriculture department reported that many farmers in the southern counties were getting ready to sow their oats as soon as the mud dried and plowing could be completed. Corn will go in about the first of May along with potatoes, it added.

Tobacco growers were said to be raising their plants in hot beds preparatory to setting them out when the weather permits. Pepper and cabbage plants were also being nursed in green houses.

SILVER STAR FOR RED CROSS MAN

WASHINGTON.—(INS)—James P. Shaw, of North Appollo, Pa., a field director for the American Red Cross, has been awarded the Silver Star for gallantry. He rescued U. S. soldiers from the sea after bombs hit their landing craft, the war department revealed. Later he cared for wounded while under fire. Shaw, 32, and a former clergyman, is the first American Red Cross worker to win the star in the present war.

Special Session Plans Under Way

Brief Session Is To Be Called
For May 1 At State
Capital

By JOHN PAGET
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, April 5.—Gov. Edward Martin set into motion today the machinery for a brief special session of the general assembly starting May 1 to adopt legislation facilitating general election balloting by members of the armed services.

A complete slate of candidates' names appearing on Pennsylvania ballots, including presidential nominees, will be mailed to persons entitled to military ballots, the governor said.

The date for the extraordinary session, expected to last only one week, was disclosed by Governor Martin following a conference with 16 Republican and Democratic leaders to discuss a non-political session. A special session proclamation will be issued within a fortnight.

A series of bills will be introduced to extend the time limit for requesting and returning ballots to county election officials, to appropriate funds to defray the costs of the session, and to permit the state defense council to authorize local units to make a house-to-house canvass to ascertain military addresses of Pennsylvanians.

Governor Martin said members of the Red Cross, the Merchant Marine and the Friends' Committee would be covered also by ballot changes.

The 16-member group was in "substantial agreement" with the proposals advanced by the governor, it was indicated. The chief executive outlined the following plans:

(1) "We'll do away with registration requirements for those in the armed services. (2) We'll have a special session called May 1 and we'll try to end it in one week. (3) A committee already named will draw up a bill, if practical, that will authorize a 'soldiers' registration day' in Pennsylvania."

He referred to a committee of Attorney General James H. Duff, secretary of the commonwealth Charles M. Morrison and deputy secretary of highways Ray F. Smock which drafted preliminary special session plans.

Amendments to the military voting law, the governor said, would be drawn by the three state officials aided by Separate Majority Leader Weldon B. Heyburn, Senate Minority Leader B. B. McGinnis, House Majority Leader Franklin H. Lichtenwalter and House Minority Leader Reuben E. Cohen.

Easter Sunrise Breakfast Planned By Croton Church

In accordance with a custom of more than 20 years, Croton Methodist church will have an Easter Sunrise breakfast at the church at 6:30 a. m. Easter morning. Following breakfast, there will be a devotional service.

Rev. Everett Spring, pastor of Edenburg Methodist church, will be the speaker.

Slippery Rock Airman Killed

Staff Sgt. Curtis Lacy Christley, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis O. Christley, of 201 North Main street, Slippery Rock, has been reported killed in action, according to a telegram received by his parents from the war department, Washington, D. C.

Sgt. Christley, an aerial engineer on a bomber, would have been thirty years old May 11. He was reported to have bailed out over the European theater of operations.

Last December, Sgt. Christley's parents received word that their son was missing in action. Later they received word from a member of a bomber directly behind that of Sgt. Christley, stating that he had seen Sgt. Christley bail out over Germany.

Former Resident Dies In Montana

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Harriet A. Urlick, of 637 South Dakota street, Butte, Montana. She was the widow of the late John Urlick, well known Butte carpenter, who died five years ago. Mrs. Urlick left this city 35 years ago for Montana and lived in Whitehall for 15 years, and in Butte for the last 20 years. She was a native of Mountville, W. Va. Deceased is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Ella Dreschel, of Butte, and step-daughter, Mrs. H. Kohr, of Grace, N. D.

Asserts Germany Planned To Bomb New York City

NEW YORK, April 5.—(INS)—Germany once planned to use a plane-carrying submarine to send bombers over New York City in case of "trouble with the United States," it was disclosed today in testimony at the trial of eight former German-American Bund members.

Frank A. Babor, a witness for the government which seeks to revoke the American citizenships of the eight, testified that he learned of the raid plot from a minor "bund fuhrer." Babor, a naval commander in the first world war, said that Karl Flick, one of the defendants, had taken pictures of the coastline of Long Island's south shore.

LORD'S SUPPER OBSERVANCE AT FIRST METHODIST

Rev. T. J. Jones Will Be Speaker

At a service of meditation and preparation for Holy Communion at the First Presbyterian church at 8 o'clock Thursday evening, Rev. Thomas J. Jones, minister of the First Congregational church, and president of the Ministerial Association, will deliver the sermon. Friday evening at 8 o'clock will be Holy Communion service.

OCD NOTES

"The danger of an enemy attack involving the use of poison gas or other chemical warfare agents cannot yet be considered as past, even though such enemy action may seem only remotely possible to the average citizen."

"However, a more definite danger now exists due to the release of chemical warfare agents incident to accidents in transportation of such chemical by train or truck," says a Bulletin issued by Dr. Ralph Cooper Hutchison, executive director, OCD, Pennsylvania.

He requests that all gas officers have their trained personnel available to immediately undertake protective measures so they may be of assistance to the responsible agencies in charge whether railroad, truck or plant is involved. It is apparent from the foregoing that the gas officers and their groups should meet and keep their squads not only informed as to gas but at full strength.

Charge Attempt To Bribe Draft Board

PITTSBURGH, April 5.—(INS)—Martin Steve Pravlik, Fayette county miner, today was under $1,500 bond for further hearing before a U. S. commissioner on charges of attempting to bribe members of the draft board at Perryopolis.

The Federal Government claims that Pravlik, of Smock, placed an envelope containing five $20 bills on a table before the draft board while seeking deferment for his youngest son, Steve Pravlik, who has three other boys in the services, sought deferment on grounds that the boy's mother was ill.

GOVERNOR CITES BAN ON EASTER PET SALES

HARRISBURG, April 5.—Governor Martin, citing a Legislative resolution adopted last year, urged Pennsylvanians to refrain from buying chicks, ducklings and rabbits as Easter pets.

"The sale of live chicks, ducklings and rabbits as pets for young children at the Easter season results in much cruelty and also causes a loss in our Nation's wartime food supply," Governor Martin said.

"The evils of this practice were recognized by the Legislature in adopting Resolution No. 9, Pamphlet Laws of Pennsylvania, approved April 20, 1943, which requested merchants, farmers and dealers to discontinue such sales as a means of preventing suffering by the fowl and animals involved and also as a measure of conservation of much needed food."

In the case of William F. Dickson and Kathryn Dickson against Arthur and Opal Meek, the jury returned a verdict for the defendant which means that no damages are allowed. The case was one in which the plaintiff alleged their property had been damaged when the defendant adjusted the grade of his property and caused water to flow over the property of the plaintiff. Suit for $300 was brought. The case was tried in court room number two before Judge John G. Lamoree.

Lenten Bible Class Concludes Thursday

Final meeting of the Y. W. C. A. Lenten Bible class will be Thursday morning at 10:30 at the Y. W. C. A. for all friends and members of the Y. W.

Mrs. J. J. McIlvaine, with her remarkable gift of making the Bible live today, will bring the Lenten study series on "Women of the Bible" to an end with a consideration of Elizabeth, mother of John, and Mary, the mother of Jesus.

Both women are a challenge and a comfort to mothers of our day who are seeing their sons sacrificed because of the sins of the world.

Sue Harvard, known in private life as Mrs. Herbert Newton Armstrong, soprano soloist for many years at Marble Collegiate church of New York City, has kindly consented to close the Lenten services by singing "Open the Gates of the Temple."

Tire Inspection Will Be Halted

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(INS)—OPA Administrator C. H. L. Bowles on Tuesday ordered periodic inspections of tires on passenger automobiles discontinued after April 20. He said that the program has fulfilled its primary objective—to make motorists conscious of the extreme need for tire conservation.

The OPA chief said the action does not mean that the tire picture has become any brighter and urged motorists to preserve their tire inspection records because OPA will continue the use of those records in the gasoline rationing program. "A shortage of civilian passenger tires still exists and production this year will run below civilian needs," Bowles stated.

WEATHERMASTER California Redwood Combination Storm Sash
31 E. Washington St. New Castle, Pa.

April 5, 1944.

Mr. and Mrs. New Castle Homeowner:

In this world there are no bargains BUT if properly explained a price reduction such as this must appeal to good common sense.

We have no salesmen—can't get them, and as a result an owner of this firm must do the selling. That's fine with me and I'll be glad to do it and save for you the 15% normally paid a salesman. Simple figures follow:

- 15% Salesman's Commission
- 25% Price Reduction over last year
- 40% Saving to you over last year's price.

To keep our mills busy and to hold our cabinet makers we'll furnish screens free for whatever sash you buy.

Your part? Yes, you have a part to play. Just phone me, New Castle 7560, tell me when you will be home and I'll gladly come out, demonstrate the Weathermaster storm sash and give you an estimate. If you like them and want them, you can have them installed in fifteen days. You can start paying for them forty-five days after installation and take up to three years to pay. Six or seven dollars a month is the average cost for storm sash that keeps the soot out as well as the cold air, keeps the curtains clean, saves 1/3 of your fuel. And the screens give you grand ventilation in summer as well as freedom from summer pests, bugs and mosquitoes.

Forty years of cabinet making experience has gone into this sash and I don't have to tell you how long Eternal California Redwood endures.

Phone me at 7560 and do it now before this frank and generous offer floods our mills with orders. Oh, Yes! I almost forgot to tell you we sold over 12,000 sash in the last sixteen months.

Sincerely,

once were covered by coniferous forests, hardwoods today predominate. In an effort to establish a more equitable proportion between these two great classes of trees, the efforts of the department's nurseries have been devoted to a large extent to raising conifers to fill the obvious needs.

MANY ORDERS FOR TREE SEEDLINGS

HARRISBURG, April 5.—The intense interest shown by Pennsylvanians in reforestation is plainly reflected in the large number of orders for seedlings and transplants received daily by the Department of Forests and Waters. Secretary James A. Kell said today.

Missions of trees are to be planted in Pennsylvania this Spring by municipalities, boroughs, water companies, mining companies, lumbering companies, sportsmen's clubs and farmers to supplement natural reproduction on private and state-owned land, provide protection for watersheds, prevent erosion, produce a future timber supply and provide food and cover for wildlife.

The species that are in greatest demand, and are most desired by tree planters are hemlock, white pine, red pine, Norway spruce, oriental larch, black walnut, locust, red oak and white oak.

Hardwoods represent so small a proportion of the stock produced in the department's nurseries because in Pennsylvania nature has been much less bountiful in reproducing stands of conifers or evergreens.

Based on a stock survey made of the entire area of forest lands owned by the department, it appears that the timber in the state which is mature or approaching maturity, the ratio between conifers and hardwoods is approximately one to seven. Of the younger stand which represents the forest of the future, however, the natural growth of conifers comprise only about one-fourth of the total. On many areas which

Republicans See Governor Dewey Likely Nominee

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(INS)—Republican senators in Washington today saw in the results of the Wisconsin primary yesterday the almost certain selection of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York as GOP presidential nominee. Most of the senators are out of the capital during the Easter congressional recess, but such was the opinion of the remaining few.

"It looks like the logic of the situation is with Dewey, and the Wisconsin result confirms this," said Sen. Clyde Ree (R-Kan). "It is very discouraging from the Willie standpoint."

Sen. Joseph H. Ball (R-Minn.), a backer of Lt. Comdr. Harold Stassen for the nomination, was encouraged by Stassen's showing.

"I think the Wisconsin result shows two things," he said. "The first is the strength of Dewey. The second is that the result appears to make Stassen one of the three or four top contenders in view of his showing, his absence from the country and the fact that little campaigning was done for him."

Over 400 Ships Are Delivered In Three Months

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(INS)—The Maritime Commission announced today that 152 merchant ships weighing 1,538,357 dead-weight tons were delivered by shipyards in March.

The commission said that 83 of the 152 vessels placed in service during March were Liberty ships but that the trend toward construction of military and other fast vessels again was evident because 51 of the fast-type ships were delivered.

Other vessels delivered in March included tankers, sea-type vessels and 21 special ships made for the armed services.

West-coast shipyards delivered 70 vessels, east-coast yards, 47, and Gulf-coast, 34, and Great-Lakes yards the rest.

NEWS AND VIEWS AT CAPITAL

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 5.—Some concern has been expressed privately by several legislative leaders over the possibility of 23 members of the General Assembly, who will attend the forthcoming special session, not being able to keep our schools open if the war lasts for any length of time. Salaries will have to be increased. The writer said seven students in the senior class who were candidates for teacher's berths had taken civil service examinations for other positions paying $1941 a year. In commenting on the letter, the association said that while the teacher shortage is serious now "it will be much more serious in the near future unless more recruits enlist for the significant service of teaching."

The 1943 legislature approved cost-of-living salary increases ranging from $100 to $306 a year ending in July 1944.

S. Edward Moore, house parliamentarian, has uncovered a record indicating that the first special session of the General Assembly convened in 1794 and not in 1791. The legislative manual states that the first special session was the 153 years ago but the papers of Gov. Thomas Mifflin reveal that the legislature was only in recess when it met the second time that year. If Mifflin's papers are correct, then the manual's assertion that there were special meetings in 1791 and 1798 is incorrect and reduces the number of special sessions since 1791 to 22.

The Pennsylvania State Education Association has published a letter from a teacher in its weekly education bulletin pointing out the wartime teacher shortage and calling for another salary increase. "I am personally very much moved by the shortage of teachers," the writer told the association. "In fact, I am just afraid that we will not be able to keep our schools open if the war lasts for any length of time. Salaries will have to be increased. The writer said seven students in the senior class who were candidates for teacher's berths had taken civil service examinations for other positions paying $1941 a year. The state highway system now totals approximately 46,600 miles of first class roads and Pennsylvania remains in the forefront of the states with the best highway network. The state's road system was started more than 108 years ago when roads were graded under township regulations. In 1895 counties were permitted to control highways within their boundaries and in 1903 the department of highways was created. However, at first the department acted only in an advisory capacity to the smaller political subdivisions and had no maintenance responsibility. In 1911, the first state-operated highway system was placed under the department's jurisdiction and in 1931 the rural road act was passed giving the department control of most of the roads in the state.

Because Only Wonder Bread is Made With Famous Earle Patented Process Flour

Takes The Place Of Any White Bread Deficient In Natural Flavor, Vitamins And Minerals Because It Contains More Natural Flavor, Wheat Vitamins And Minerals

The only way in the world to get more wheat flavor in bread is to put more of the wheat grain in it.

That's what has been done in Wonder Bread. That's why it is the bread that is thrilling thousands here now.

Because Wonder Bread—and only Wonder Bread—is made with famous Earle Patented Process Flour.

This flour is unique in that it is white yet contains more of the whole wheat grain than white flour ordinarily used to make bread.

Wonder Bread Means "Patented Flavor"

Thus, it contains more of the rich, nutty flavor of whole wheat.

That's why "Patented Flavor" Wonder Bread tastes better.

Because, although white in color, it has more of the natural flavor of the wheat.

Not too much. But enough to make your mouth water.

And Wonder Bread is the only bread sold under the $1,000 Guarantee of continuing assays to assure maximum Vitamin B<sub>1</sub> content as stated on the label.

Doubly Fresh

Then, too, Wonder Bread is doubly fresh—fresh when you buy it and fresh when you eat it—because slow-baked for lasting freshness—baked 13% longer than many ordinary kinds.

Thus, if you want bread with better flavor; bread that is doubly fresh; bread you are assured contains the full amount of Vitamin B<sub>1</sub>, you are urged to ask your grocer for Wonder Bread. Get it today. You'll be glad you did.

Your Estimated Income Tax

No. 1

THE DECLARATION OF ESTIMATED TAX—ITS PURPOSE

On or before April 15, 1944, fifteen million people (including service men who have taxable income after excluding the first $1,500 of service pay) must file declarations of estimated income and victory taxes for 1944 and make a quarterly payment on the basis of those declarations. Originally due on March 15, the declarations were postponed until April 15 in order to include provisions of the new revenue bill, the Revenue Act of 1943, which did not become law until February 25, 1944, and which changed in some respects the basis for estimating the 1944 tax. Certain farmers may elect to wait until December 15 before they file, and persons who are outside the continental United States on April 15 need not file their declarations at that time.

The 1944 declaration forms, Form 1040-ES, are printed slips 3 1/2 by 8 inches, similar in appearance and general contents to the forms used for the 1943 declarations in September and December, 1943. They have been mailed to all persons who filed declarations last year. Taxpayers who are required to file for the first time this year may obtain copies from any collector of internal revenue, together with work sheets which will be of assistance in preparing the estimate of tax for 1944.

These declarations are part of the pay-as-you-go system of tax collections which enable every taxpayer, so far as possible, to keep substantially up to date on his income tax payments. The income tax is a major part of the federal government's method of paying for the war and all other governmental costs. Of the 50 million people who filed income tax returns for 1943, the majority had their taxes paid in full through withholding from their wages. Withholding, however, covers only the normal income tax of 6 per cent the surtax at the lowest bracket rate of 13 per cent and the victory tax at 3 per cent. People with income in the higher brackets must therefore make additional payments during the year in order to keep current and not fall behind in their tax payments.

Furthermore, withholding applies only to certain wages and salaries, and not to (a) wages and salaries paid to such persons as members of the armed forces, clergymen, agricultural labor and domestics, nor to (b) other forms of income, such as business profits, returns from farming, interest, dividends and rents. Since taxes are not usually collected at the source from such incomes, the declarations with their quarterly payments have the important function of keeping people up to date with their tax payments for 1944.

may occur later in the year. It is not required, however, that the estimate be absolutely accurate, for the law permits an estimate to be made without penalty for under-estimating (a) if it is at least 80 per cent correct (or 66 2/3 per cent correct in the case of farmers), or (b) if it is computed on last year's income at this year's rates and exemptions, and is paid on time in quarterly installments or is paid ahead of time or in the case of farmers, is paid on or before the 15th day of the last month of the taxable year.

In estimating his tax, each taxpayer should consider the facts and circumstances existing at the time prescribed for filing the declaration. For instance, a person employed at that time at a given wage or salary should presume for the purposes of the declaration, in the absence of facts indicating the contrary, that his pay will continue unchanged to the end of the year. If he owns shares of stock on which he has received dividends regularly for several years, he should, in the absence of information indicating a change in the dividend policy, include the prospective dividends for the year as well as the dividends already received in that year. A taxpayer who is engaged in business on his own account should estimate his probable gross income, deductions and credits according to the best information available to him concerning his trade, business or profession. In any event, an amended declaration, marked "Amended," can be filed later, on or before any installment date, with the collector with whom the original declaration was filed, and the remaining installments will be correspondingly increased or decreased.

While the primary purpose of the declaration is to make it possible for taxpayers to pay their current taxes by installments, some individuals may prefer to pay the entire amount of the estimate in one payment. This may be done at the time when the first installment is due, but an amended declaration can still be filed later in the year if changes occur in income or family status.

The declarations and payments should be taken or mailed to the collector of internal revenue in the district in which the taxpayer expects to file his regular income tax return for the year.

Branch Rickey Suggests "Share Players" Plan

Teams Richer In Talent Would Aid Harder Hit Clubs

Brooklyn President Advocates Pooling Of Player Resources; Players Acquired By Rickey's Plan Would Be Property For Duration; Dodgers Have About 200 Hands Around Camps.

By DAVIS J. WALSH

International News Service Sports Writer

BEAR MOUNTAIN, N. Y., April 5.—After spending hours in meditation and prayer, Branch Rickey, the wry pessimist in Manhattan's cock-tail, emerged primly on the threshold of his bedchamber and delivered himself of a pontifical announcement.

He had solved, he said, the manner in which baseball might stand steadfast against, and even unmoved by, the latest development tending toward a closed shop policy for the ball parks until we get this war won.

Bro. Rickey's proposal is for a pooling of player resources, just in case the government gets as tough as it says it might about drafting all 4-F's into work gangs and other useful pursuits.

Quick Action Seen

It may be added for the record that recently Undersecretary of War Patterson spoke for conscripting these physical unfortunates in the 13-37 age group and that Rep. Costello of California thereupon introduced upon the floor of the house a bill with just such an idea in mind.

He seemed to think the bill might get swift action, so immediate, in fact, that it might be a law by April 12. Some six days before that start of the major league season, if any. It also seems necessary to add that Judge Landis and Ed Barrow, president of the already dismantled Yankees, were elusively about the possible effect this situation might have on the immediate future of their game. And that Joe McCarthy of the Yankees and Leo J. Bondy of the Giants were frankly pessimistic in this connection.

But Bro. Rickey's first reaction was that he felt undismayed by this new menace, that in fact he'd jauntily guarantee to place upon the field a combination team of genuine fledglings and crotchety, blowzy old Dodgers that would "play a satisfactory brand of ball."

Later, the Bro. took a recount on that one with the result that the player pool thing came blinking uncertainly into the light of public scrutiny for the first time.

Share Players

Clubs, finding themselves with or less abundantly provided with players, were benevolently to share same with those less fortunately situated. The Bro. is strictly that kind of a fellow.

All he wants is the vest, in fact, and you can have the arm hole. The players acquired by Rickey's plan would be the property of that club for the duration. The Brooklyn club (his own) will have had about 200 players in its various camps this spring, and we certainly could lend some.

Out of the 200, awkwardly enough, there is no record of one of them being a shortstop or major league talent. Moreover, the Rickey proposal was timed some hours after he'd arrived in camp here with the public statement that Arky Vaughan, a shortstop of some competency, would not report until midseason, if then. There naturally was no mention made of the fact that the Cubs now have three shortstops.

Now that not even Bro. Rickey can think of any reasonable way of opening the ball season without at least one.

ATHLETICS SCORE

FIFTH WIN, 5 TO 1

FREDERICK, Md., April 5.—(INS)—The Athletics served notice today to any American League team interested, that they will be in the running for league honors. The A's blasted out their fifth exhibition win, 5-1, at the expense of the Toronto Maple Leafs, International League champions, yesterday.

McCarthy Sees Attendance 'Up'

Yankee Manager Says "We'll Be Playing In September"; Brand Of Ball Acceptable

By DAVIS J. WALSH

(International News Service Sports Writer)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 5.—Joe McCarthy, who has achieved lasting distinction as master of the Bromide and sponsor of the Banality, quite unexpectedly took the curl parts out of his hair today, and really let himself go. Before he was finished, in fact, he found himself presenting an eloquent defense of the artistic quality of wartime baseball, vouchsafing a prediction for 1944 and, at the end, even coining a pretty good epigram.

The prediction was that 1944 attendance figures throughout the major leagues would be definitely "up" over the 1943 showing. This, incidentally, in spite of the manpower and 4-F menace.

Rather Optimistic

As to that, his prediction covered only such periods of plays as baseball might be able to work in this summer, although not for a moment does he go along with all the haphazard alarm over this question that seems to have set in elsewhere.

"I think," said he, in this connection, "we'll still be playing in September. And playing at that, a generally acceptable standard of ball. Let's take my own club, for example. Everybody else is moaning about the Yankees repeated losses of key-men who made it possible for us to win the world's championship last October."

But do you know I haven't a single man in camp here who was in a league lower than class AA last year? In other words, they have experience, savvy, know-how. And I defy any layman to tell the difference between the thrills of class AA baseball and those of the two top leagues.

Dim-Out Affects Gates

A number of things went into the downward trend of the 1943 attendance arc, according to McCarthy. Gas rationing, for instance, which was so severe in the east it made week-day attendance too difficult for customers coming from beyond the city or even state limits (but, said he, they came when they had a complete day at their disposal).

McCarthy thought the regulation against night baseball around New York was significant.

"It hurt the usual attendance at that Giant-Dodgers rivalry a whole lot. Incidentally, the Giants had an 'off' year, which they don't figure to repeat. As for us, we'll do a lot better at the gate, if only for the fact that we have about 20 night games away from home . . . eight of them in Washington where night baseball is a bonanza."

"Take my word for it, '44 will out-draw '43 at the gate."

ROE WILL TWIRL OPENER FOR PICS

MUNCIE, Ind., April 5.—(INS)—Pittsburgh Pirates manager Frankie Frisch today disclosed he was banking on the pitching prowess of "Preacher" Roe southpaw rookie, when the Cardinals are faced in the first game on April 18 at St. Louis. Outfielder Vince DeMaggio, meanwhile, remained in the hold-out ranks, although present in Muncie.

ROOTER OVERSEAS

Al Davkin, one of Penn State's all-time soccer stars, is now serving Uncle Sam in the European theatre.

Bob Montgomery Joins 1-A Ranks

PHILADELPHIA, April 5.—(INS)—Lightweight Champion Bob Montgomery awaited a pre-induction examination today after receiving a 1-A classification from his Quaker City draft board.

The 25-year-old titlist is married and the father of a 3-year-old son, Montgomery, who has been resting upon recommendation of the New York State Athletic commission since he regained the lightweight crown from Beau Jack in Madison Square Garden, March 3, is on a leave of absence from his job in a shipyard.

Montgomery's manager, Frankie Thomas, reportedly may arrange a bout for the 135-pound king within a week.

Castle Five Wins In Sharon, 28-13

Locals Eliminate Girard From Buhl Tournery; Bob Preston Offensive Ace

Limiting the opposition to a pair of fielders while they collected 10, the Castle Five cagers scored a 28-13 victory over Girard, last night on Buhl club floor, Sharon, in the Buhl club tournament.

The locals took a 4-3 first period edge and by halftime had piled up a 12-5 advantage. An additional 11 markers in the third clinched the decision.

Preston Stars

Bob Preston's long range shooting was impressive. The Ne-Ca-Hi guard popped in five two-pointers. "Billy" Andrews looped eight points and Bob Jackson seven.

Girard, comprised of leading performers in the Youngstown scholastic world, was unable to solve the tight zone spread by the Castles. Kossick, who tallied 275 points during the past season, counted only two. Wise and Williams featured for the losers.

Thursday night at 6:40, the Castles play the winner of tonight's skirmish between Butler and Freeport.

Lineup:

Castles: G. F. T. B. Jackson, f. . . . . 2 3 7

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Lawrence County Sportsmen's Association will meet one week from last night in Neshannock Hall, V. P. W. East Washington street, where a detailed report concerning the stocking of trout, liberation of purchased western rabbits and vermin killed will be made. The trout information will be vital at this time because the season opens April 15. All the local streams have been stocked and 100 rabbits purchased by the association were released some time ago. Several Saturdays recently hunters have sought to kill fox and hawks.

Today there arrives from a nephew, Chauncey Emery, of Slippery Rock, R. D. 2, a letter from Italy in which he reports that he has been relieved from Cassino "where things were hot and still are" and has been assigned with the British in another section. He is in a medical battalion. He was well known in fishing and hunting circles and prior to entering service was with the Westinghouse in Sharon.

Next regular meeting of the Lawrence County Kennel club will be held at 8 o'clock, April 15, in the Y. M. C. A. The meeting is open to anyone interested.

Brooklyn Evens Count With Yanks

TRENTON, N. J., April 5.—(INS)—The New York Yankees and the Brooklyn Dodgers went their separate ways today after each winning a game in their two-game series, the Dodgers winning yesterday's exhibition contest before 1,500 fans by a 6-4 score.

The Yanks were scheduled to play the Athletics in Baltimore today, while the Brooklyn bums were back at their Bear Mountain training center.

GAME POSTPONED

FRENCH LICK, Ind., April 5.—(INS)—The Chicago White Sox-Cubs rivalry remained a feud of words today after yesterday's postponement of their scheduled exhibition at George Field, Ill. Both managements agreed to make another attempt at the same place Friday, preferably without the 36-degree temperature that had the Athletics shuddering yesterday.

BUCS FACE INDIANS

LAFAYETTE, Ind., April 5.—(INS)—If old man weather relents, the Cleveland Indians will play an exhibition game with the Pittsburgh Pirates at Erie, Ind., today. The scheduled game with the Pirates at Lafayette yesterday was cancelled by wintry weather.

NATS IDLE

COLLEGE PARK, Md., April 5.—(INS)—The Washington Senators had an off day in their spring training exhibition schedule today but Manager Ossie Bluege said the team would hold an intra-squad game.

Sammy Angott Wins Over Aaron Perry

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(INS)—Sammy Angott, former lightweight title-holder, today held a close ten-round decision over Aaron Perry, flashy Washington welterweight.

Experience aided the veteran Washington, Pa., fighter to gain a split decision over his 18-year-old opponent. Angott took the first six rounds with Perry rallying to take the last four.

Angott weighed 141½ and Perry scaled 141½.

RYBA WILL HURL FOR BOSOX TODAY

LAKEWOOD, N. J., April 5.—(INS)—Milt Ryba, the one man ball team and Chet Hausmann will be on the mound today when the Red Sox meet the New York Giants.

Yesterday at Baltimore, Md., the Red Sox belted the Orioles 19 to 3 in knocking out 18 hits against three pitchers for a total of 32 bases.

Westminster AMERICA'S FINEST SOCKS

What does he do when he's on leave? He dates a WAC or WAVE. Makes you proud to look at them. So confident—so brave. His uniform is faultless. And you'll pardon us if we boast that he probably wears Westminster Socks in stores from coast to coast.

PHILLIES DEFEAT BOMBER NINE, 6-0

WILMINGTON, Del., April 5.—(INS)—The Phillies posted a 6-0 shut-out exhibition victory today over the Martin Bombers of Baltimore behind the smooth pitching of Dick Barrett and Bernard Musill.

The Blue Jays will meet the Toronto Maple Leafs at Lancaster today.

Kellam, Famous Swimmer, Here

Norris "Corky" Kellam, famous 300-pound swimming comedian of the New York and San Francisco world's fairs, appears in the Y. M. C. A. pool today and Thursday.

The round athlete stages his opening show at 4:30 and dons his splashing raiment again at 8:15 o'clock. Thursday's performance will be held at 4:30 and 8:15.

Box in Water

Four local swimmers in the program will box the comedian in the water in a five round "Water Boxing" contest.

A novelty stunt will be Kellam's "Leap for Life". Tied to a weighted chair, blindfolded, he is hurled into the water head first and left to perfect his escape.

He can escape in about one minute and bring the chair up in his teeth with the blindfold over his eyes in its original position.

ORTIZ RETAINS BANTAM CROWN

LOS ANGELES, April 5.—(INS)—Tony Olivera, Oakland bantamweight, put up the best fight of his career but it wasn't good enough to keep Manuel Ortiz, El Centro truck farmer, from still ruling today as the world bantamweight champion.

Ortiz was driven hard for 15 rounds last night at Olympic auditorium but managed to weather Olivera's attack and successfully defend his crown for the tenth time.

Ortiz weighed 117 and Olivera 117.

The El Centro kid takes a crack at the featherweight division June 19 at Boston where he meets Willie Pep, holder of the New York version of the 126-pound title.

Dell 'Orto-Amico Draw $200 Fines

PITTSBURGH, April 5.—(INS)—Fines of $200 each were levied today against Vince Dell 'Orto of New York and Joey Amico of Philadelphia, participants in the semi-final match which was declared "no contest" at the Pittsburgh Gardens Monday night.

Their scheduled eight-rounder was halted in the third by Referee Buck McTiernan, who said he had three warned the participants to start fighting or get out of the ring.

Pitcher Ted Wilks Joins Cards' Staff

CAIRO, Ill., April 5.—(INS)—The St. Louis Cardinal squad today was counted at 16 pitchers and 26 players, as Pitcher Ted Wilks, rejected for military service, set out to join the Redbirds.

Wilks, who won 16 games and lost eight for Columbus last year, was on the Cardinal roster, but had remained at his Fulton, N. Y., home to learn the outcome of his induction examination.

REDS GET STAR

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., April 5.—(INS)—Manager Bill McKechnie put a new outfielder on display today. Chico Ramos, an importation from Venezuela where he was said to have belted the ball for better than a 400 average.

GIANTS FACE BOSOX

LAKEWOOD, N. J., April 5.—(INS)—For what they lost in actual training, the New York Giants hope today to make up in an intensive series of exhibition games, taking on the Boston Red Sox in Lakewood this afternoon.

Sportin' 'Round:----

Towering Noble Jorgensen, Westminster's 6-foot 8-inch freshman cager, is the only district athlete honored on the All-America basketball selections. Among the few yearlings to receive distinction, "Jorgy" drew an honorable mention berth. A 40-minute player, the Titan center garnered the district's scoring title with a total of 313 points in 19 tilts. His way up stature proved invaluable under the rims. The Sporting News sponsored the A. A. . . .

Recently discharged from the army because of an injury, Ralph Ferrucci is back in Wampum and willing and rarin' to resume his place in the local baseball circle. In a letter to this scribbler, Ferrucci, as manager of the Wampum White Sox nine, states that he desires a franchise in the City League. James Grinnen, Guy Bennett, Joe Scala, Savor and Johnson, who spent the past few months starring on Wampum high's cage club, are among the members of the fast aggregation. Ferrucci believes that a plan can be arranged whereby the Sox can participate in the loop without working any hardships on city clubs . . . .

Among the frenzied spectators at the Billy Miller-Lulu Costantino fight, Mike Zerbe, of the State police, didn't see eye to eye with the official decision. "It was, in my mind, close but I think Costantino was the winner," the ardent mitt fan said. . . . New Castle and Meadville have booked a track meet for May 8 at Taggart stadium. The engagement was listed as "tentative" when the schedule was announced recently . . . .

The PIAA board has approved the transfer of Sharon and Farrell from District 10 to District 7. Which means that the Mercer county schools will be in there pitching for the WPIAL Class AA grid title-provided they have booked the required five loop engagements. . . . Of the 400-odd active major league players, 180 are listed as 4-F. An indication that physical requirements are not too exacting in the national pastime . . . .

FIRM TENDENCY IN DAY'S MARKET

Some Issues Are In Demand
And Advance More Than Point

NEW YORK, April 5.—(INS)—The stock market was firm today, with a selective demand lifting a few issues more than a point. Trading was moderately active, running a little below a million shares.

Mining shares continued to attract attention. Homestake, U. S. Smelting and Dome mines were all up more than a point at one time, while Alaska Juneau, a low-priced issue, was active with a smaller advance.

Liquor shares and rails also came in for a good bit of the buying. Park & Tilford was up a point at one time, while Schenley advanced fractionally. In the carriers, Atchafalaya, up more than a point, was the main attraction.

Holding firms, fractionally above last night's close, were most other industrial groups, including the steels, oils and motors. Sinclair oil continued to lead petroleum issues in active trading and showed a small gain most of the session.

Communications were higher under leadership of Western Union 'A' and International Telephone. Rubbers were generally up large fractions. Utility and specialty shares were quiet. Mail orders continued higher, with Spiegel again the leader.

Blasts New Deal

Novelist Rose Wilder Lane has stepped writing well-paying fiction and has retired, with 600 pounds of pork and 400 jars of preserves, to a farm in Danbury, Conn. Explaining her action, she says, "I don't see why I should work to support the Writers War Board, the OWI and all such New Deal piffle while men are dying and work's to be done." She called the income tax "the last straw."

Civil War Danger Current In France

Patriots Are Set To Back
Second Front Is Word
Leaking Out

By WILLIAM W. WADE

LONDON, April 5.—(INS)—Intense strife between French patriots and Joseph Darnand's Vichy Gestapo has brought the danger of civil war in France to a new peak, according to reports reaching London.

With the continued weakening of the Germans on the fighting fronts and the ever-present hope of an early Allied invasion, French patriots have renewed their efforts to sabotage the Nazis and to maintain a strong resistance movement for the future.

Forced To Trust French
The Germans, strained for manpower and expectant of greater military tests ahead, have been forced to call upon Vichy French leaders more and more for the suppression of resistors.

Darnand, head of the Quisling police and controller of his nation's food and security, has made a new bid to quell the so-called terrorists. He has ordered the complete mobilization of the French Popular party, the militia and the armed gendarmerie.

Placing arms in the hands of Frenchmen is a risky business, due to political considerations as well as the manpower crisis, Hitler has agreed to chance it.

Armed By Germans
According to one report, the formation of the first battalion composed of Popular Party members, the militia and the Vichy police has been completed and equipped with German arms.

Other battalions are reported in the process of being formed and reserves drawn from "sympathizers" have been notified to stand by in case of civil war.

Darnand, it is indicated, has learned Gestapo technique and practices from the Germans with ease. Some of his recent activities include:

At Rheims 15 men were convicted of various acts of alleged sabotage, condemned to death by a military tribunal and executed. In Paris a gang of 10 "dangerous criminals" was arrested in a purge of "terrorists."

At Toulouse a Frenchman was sentenced to 20 years penal servitude for killing a militiaman.

Know Nazis Are Losing
Meanwhile, the German command in France has shown increasing concern over the menace of parachutists. The population has been warned by radio and other means that the penalty for aiding Allied parachutists or airmen who are shot down is likely to be death.

The patriots, however, know that the struggle is going badly for the Nazi masters and that the day of liberation is approaching. They are being encouraged by continual broadcasts from the BBC and Afters radio.

One of these recently pointed out that the German decision to evacuate Frenchmen from various coastal danger zones was not dictated by concern over the welfare of the civilians. The broadcaster pointed out that the Germans are mortally afraid of what help the French will give the invaders when they come.

Holy Week Now Being Observed

Catholics To Attend Impressive Services In Churches, Thursday, Friday And Saturday

SERVICES TO CLOSE ON EASTER SUNDAY

Holy Week, the final week of the Lenten season, is being observed by Catholics this week, and in all of the Catholic churches appropriate services are being conducted. On Holy Thursday, the church commemorates the Last Supper at which our Lord instituted the sacraments of the Holy Eucharist and Holy Orders. On Good Friday, the robes of mourning are used and it is a day of fast and abstinence for all Catholics. The Lenten season, observed for the past 40 days, comes to a close at noon on Holy Saturday. Easter Sunday masses will be celebrated at the same time. In all of the churches, confessions will be heard in the afternoon and evenings on Wednesday, and in a few of the churches Wednesday evening services commence Holy Week services.

Schedule Given
The schedule for the various Catholic churches follows:
St. John the Baptist—Wednesday evening devotion, 7:30 p. m.; Holy Thursday mass, 9 a. m.; evening devotion, 7:30 p. m., including services of washing of feet; Good Friday, mass of pre-sanctified, at 9 a. m.; evening devotion at 7:30 p. m., sermon on Passion of Our Lord. Holy Saturday mass at 9 o'clock, evening services at 7:30 p. m., blessing of paschal candle, water and fire, Midnight mass. Easter Sunday mass at 9 o'clock.
St. Joseph's—Holy Thursday, high mass at 8:30 a. m., procession to Blessed Sacrament; all day adoration; special devotions to Blessed Sacrament at 7:45 p. m. Good Friday mass of pre-sanctified, at 8:30 a. m., 12 o'clock noon to 3 p. m., three hour agony, including sermon, prayers, meditations and stations of the cross at 2:30 o'clock; evening services at 7:30 o'clock, stations of the cross; Holy Saturday, blessing of water, and paschal candles and baptismal font at 7:30 a. m. Mass at 8:30 a. m. Easter Sunday masses, 6, 8, 10 (high mass and benediction) and 11:30 a. m.

New Castle Hospital—Holy Thursday high mass at 6 a. m., Good Friday evening devotion at 7:15 p. m.; Easter Sunday mass of Resurrection at 6 a. m.

Can Company Planning Program For Postwar Jobs For Servicemen

New Castle employees of the American Can company now in service will be given an opportunity to make use of the skills and experience they have acquired as members of the armed forces through a postwar placement program announced by Edmund Hoffman, manager of the personnel division of the company. The program, he said, seeks scientific methods of matching jobs and aptitudes, particularly in the light of experiences and training that company employees have undergone while in uniform. As now being set up, the program contemplates analysis of jobs from the standpoint of abilities and experiences required and a workable interview procedure to evaluate the potentialities of the individual in the light of his wartime activities. Mr. Hoffman said further, "The analysis will be made from the standpoints of characteristics, aptitudes and preferences and in some instances written test procedures will be used to supplement interviews. All of these adjustments must be made while giving full consideration to the accumulated experience of those who have continued in the service of the company during the war so that this experience may be utilized to the best advantage of the individual and the organization. Mr. Hoffman declared. Particular attention will be paid to men who have suffered physical or mental injury in the armed forces and every possible effort will be made to place these men in jobs commensurate with their capabilities in the light of their handicaps, he continued. As a preliminary to the program, it is planned to write to employees now in service, acquainting them with the company's plans for their post-war placement.

Protests Low Prices Paid To Egg Producers

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(INS)—Sen. Bushfield (R) S. D., called for a senate agriculture committee investigation of excessively low prices paid to egg producers amid a government-sponsored surplus. Bushfield's proposal was made as 15 middle western senators, headed by Sen. Wherry (R) Neb., prepared to receive a report from the war food administration outlining the government's position in maintaining a 30-cent average support price to the nation's egg wholesalers. "The wholesalers are getting the prices," Bushfield said. "But the farmers have to take what the market will bring. In many cases, producers are receiving from 10 to 12 cents under the government support price, and it has caused an enormous loss to middle western farmers. "I feel that in view of the situation there should be a full investigation, and I plan to recommend it to my colleague on Wednesday."

Plans To Request Probe Of Possible Post Office Leaks

WASHINGTON, April 7.—(INS)—Sen. Reed (R) Kan., planned to ask the senate post office and post roads committee today to consider investigating possible post office or censorship leaks in the case of Miss Vivian Kellems, Connecticut manufacturer.

Miss Kellems has demanded to know how Rep. Coffee (D) Wash., and Columnist Drew Pearson obtained excerpts from correspondence she had with Count Karl von Zedlitz of Argentina, whom the congressman branded a Nazi agent when he read portions of the letters to the house last week.

Reed, ranking Republican member on the senate committee, advocated a congressional probe of the office of censorship's mail program as well as possible illegal interception of Miss Kellems' correspondence while it was in the hands of the post office.

Red Skelton Seeks Marriage License

LOS ANGELES, April 7.—(INS)—Red Skelton, whose first wife blamed their divorce on his "terrible sense of humor," today had wisecracked himself out of getting a license to wed Muriel Morris, blonde model.

He and his fiancée applied at the Hall of Records for the license and after the application had been filled out the comedian quipped:

"Now, who takes the blood?"

"Don't you have your health certificate, signed by a physician?" asked the marriage bureau clerk.

"N. I just thought you had to wait three days," said Skelton.

It was explained that while the legislature had abolished the three-day wait, health certificates were needed.

Skelton immediately made arrangements to have the blood tests made today, and the license will be obtained sometime during the afternoon.

Tax Collections Set New Record

PITTSBURGH, April 7.—Income tax collections due and payable March 15 last totaled $208,299,917.72 and set an all-time high record, it was announced last night by Stanley Granger, local collector of internal revenue. This is an increase of $18,189,081.20 over the previous year's collections, when the total was $190,110,836.52.

The amount collected during the period recently ended is in addition to the five per cent victory tax effective during the first six months of 1943 and the 20 per cent withholding tax paid during the last half of the year.

Granger expressed the opinion that the big increase is the result of higher wages and increased employment throughout the 24 counties of his internal revenue district and also of the higher tax rates.

With New Castle Afro-Americans

Special service at the Second Baptist church Sunday morning at 11 a. m., will be family day service; babies will be blessed and special service will be rendered by the senior and junior choirs. U. Walker will be soloist.

Sunday school Easter program at the Second Baptist church will be during the Sunday school hour.

Your Estimated Income Tax

YOUR ESTIMATED INCOME No. 3

HOW TO FILL OUT THE FORMS
Certain taxpayers are required by law to make a declaration of estimated income and victory taxes for 1944. Persons who are not outside of the continental United States on April 15, 1944, must file their declarations on or before that date, except that certain farmers may elect to wait until December 15, before they file. The taxpayers who file are those that are not kept up to date on their income tax payments by withholding from wages.

They owe additional tax either (a) because their wages are not subject to withholding or are high enough so that they are subject to tax rates that are higher than the withholding tax, or (b) because they have other income—such as rents, dividends, interest, or profits from property or stock transactions—from which no tax is withheld. After the close of the year, an annual income and victory tax return shows the actual figures of income, deductions, tax liability, and payments for the year.

The form on which the declaration of estimated tax for 1944 is to be made, Form 1040-ES, is a short slip 3 1/2 x 8 inches, and is the only form that needs to be filed by the taxpayer. Copies of the form have been mailed to all persons who filed declarations for 1943, together with two alternative work sheets furnished for their convenience. Other persons may obtain forms from any collector of internal revenue upon request. The taxpayer needs to use only one of these work sheets, which ever may be the one best suited to his circumstances, and should retain it for his personal record.

Filling out the work sheet is a process similar to the making of a regular return, except that it deals with estimates instead of actual figures. There is first estimated the total of all income which may be received in 1944, based on past experience in regard to salary, interest, dividends, rentals, sales, etc., and future probabilities.

The approximate amount of tax due on that income is then determined. In a short-form work sheet it is necessary only to enter the amount of estimated total income from all sources, including the net profits from farming and other business, deduct an allowance for the personal exemption status, and insert the appropriate amount of income tax as shown in the table on the back of the form. This form has no entries for deduction of expenses, since the income taxes (normal tax and surtax) indicated in the table were computed after making allowance for average deductions, such as interest, taxes and contributions, approximating 8 percent of the net income after deduction for personal exemption. In order to give effect to these deductions without actually showing them in the form, the amounts used for personal exemption and credit for dependents are increased, so that they are larger than the figures used for the regular return, but the Bureau of Internal Revenue has approved their use for the making of estimates.

In determining the victory tax, there is deducted from the total income a specific exemption, and a tax of 3 percent of the balance is computed and entered in the proper space. The total of the income tax plus the victory tax is then entered in line 1 on the face of the declaration.

An alternative form of work sheet is intended for taxpayers whose probable income is over $10,000, and for those with smaller incomes who expect to have unusually large deductions or who otherwise desire to make a more detailed computation of their tax. This worksheet permits an estimate of each separate item of the income and allowable deductions, with an exact computation of the tax upon the resulting estimated net income, after allowance for personal exemptions and credit for dependents. In general, the items on this work sheet relative to income, deductions and tax are the same as on the final tax return which is usually filed after the close of the year. A table is included showing the combined normal tax and surtax rates applicable to the various income brackets. The total of the income tax (normal tax and surtax) plus the victory tax is then entered in line 1 on the face of the declaration.

The law also permits taxpayers to estimate the tax by computing it on last year's income at this year's rates and exemptions, provided the payments are made on time. Amended declarations may be filed on or before any installment date up to December 15.

Having entered the estimated total tax on line 1 of the declaration, which is now deducted from this figure the amount of tax which may reasonably be expected to be paid at the source during 1944 by withholding from wages (for instance, multiply the amount withheld each payday by the number of paydays during the year.

The balance is the amount, referred to in the law as the "estimated tax for the taxable year," which is payable directly to the collector of internal revenue in quarterly installments. When an amended declaration is filed, there may also be deducted the payments previously made on the estimated tax. If a taxpayer had an overpayment for 1943 he may have elected to apply it as a credit against the 1944 estimated tax, in which case it will be treated as a payment on the first installment of the estimated tax, and if the credit is larger than that installment, the remaining credit may be applied against the next installment, and so on.

Farmers, 80 percent of whose gross income is derived from farming, may elect to wait until December 15 to file a declaration for 1944. They will pay their entire estimated tax in a lump sum at that time, without the privilege of installments.

Urges Drafting Of Seventeen-Year-Olds

CINCINNATI, O., April 7.—(INS)—Brig. Gen. Albert L. Cox, who retired from the Army as provost marshal for the District of Columbia, urged today the drafting of 17-year-old youths to ease the apparently acute Army manpower shortage.

In Cincinnati for an Army Day address, General Cox said, "they would make much better soldiers than fathers taken away from their families and business acquired by many years of hard labor."

General Cox, commander-in-chief of the military order of the World War, added, "I don't believe the 17-year-olds should be sent into combat until they have had a full year's training. However, they certainly would be physically able to whip twice their number of middle-aged men who have lost whatever taste they might have had for Army life."

In August, 1908, Wilbur Wright first flew at Le Mans, France, astonishing European scientists. In September, still at Le Mans, he made a world's record of 60 miles in 1 hour and 31 minutes. In December he won the Michelin trophy with a flight of 2 hours, 20 minutes, 23 1/2 seconds.

Place Your Order NOW for Frozen Food Lockers

The F. W. Walker Company contemplates the construction and operation of refrigerated food storage lockers in a plant at the proposed location of 426 North Croton Avenue, New Castle, Pa. By reason of certain restricted materials going into the construction of this equipment, the War Production Board has set up regulations governing the building of new locker plants for the year 1944.

The War Production Board requirements for cities and surrounding areas, with a population equal to that of New Castle and vicinity, provide that 70 per cent of the contemplated locker capacity be rented to as many families who are producers of foods, and further, that advance rentals be collected and deposited with an Escrow Agent, which may be a local bank or other agency.

The F. W. Walker Company has arranged with the First National Bank of Lawrence County to act as Escrow Agent for the collection of funds from applicants for locker rentals. This bank will hold all funds so deposited in Escrow until such time as the proposed plant is constructed and ready for use. In case this project is not approved by the War Production Board, the First National Bank of Lawrence County will refund to each and every applicant the amount deposited in this Escrow Account.
